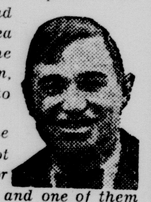
POLICE BATTLE CRAZED MAN

SECRETLY MOVE JAWORSKI TO ROCKVIEW PRISON

MAYBE DEMOCRATS YET CAN DO SOME GOOD, SAYS WILL

(Special To The News)

NEW YORK, Jan. 18. — Al Smith made a mighty nice straight-forward speech over the radio. And it's a good idea to not let the party die down, for you got to watch.



You let the Democrats not be looking for just a minute and one of them Republicans will grab that Washington's monument and light out with it.

I hated to see Al passing the hat for the rich Democrats. He is too big a man to be handed a tin cup and sent out on the highways.

Yours,

WILL.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

He was a gentleman. Yes, we reiterate, he was a gentleman. Mostly was, however. He came down North Mill street and at the junction of Falls, dashed through the water not less than 35 per. A lady who had crossed the street, dressed for shoping, et cetera, had reached the curb when the car passed. Needless to say, her clothes were ruined.

More tricks—a lady of exceptional avoirdupois and a light fur coat was walking down East Washington street Thursday afternoon. She hit a nice slippery spot and the coat and lady slid not less than a distance of 10 feet down the hill.

Seems to Pa Newc that with this amount of splashing and falling, the cleaners should have a rushing business for the next couple of days, to say the least.

The weather greeters have changed their slogan. Instead of, "cold enuf fer ya," its "have you fell down yet," or some such inebriated salutation.

People are funny. In the recent motor club membership contest, winners were given gold plated radiator emblems. They have been here now for some time yet there are still several of the winners who have not called as yet for their award emblem.

Pa Newc has discovered a bus driver who is a traffic gentleman. He gives the other fellow the chances for a break in every instance. He drives one of the suburban buses and probably a lot of you know him.

Get your boards out and start practicing on the old round the stove and cuspidor game nationally known as checkers. They are starting a tournament at the Y. M. C. A. which promises to be a hummer.

Westminster goes down to battle with Geneva this evening and Pa Newc has heard of quite a few fans who are making the trip down. The ninth ward boys will have some keen competition according to reports from the Beaver Falls region.

If it gets any warmer, Pa Newc will lose his cherished dream of seeing a man with a derby and ear lugs. He has been hoping for weeks but to no avail. He did see one fellow wearing a cap that had the patent ear lugs however.

Although application blanks for entrance into the various citizens' military training camps have not yet been received by Captain Melvin L. Craig, who is recruiting for the camps in this county, yet young men who wish to add to their military training this summer should apply as early as possible. Last year, Lawrence county's quota was filled within a few days after the rolls for the summer camps were opened. Many who wished to attend could not because they were late in making their applications.

Perhaps it is a chestnut, but it was pulled by one of the wags-about-town and it bears repeating. He was in a haberdashery buying handkerchiefs. One of especially fine linen was shown to him. He shook his head sadly. "No, that is too much to blow in," he said as the clerk told him the price.

That New Castle supports a stamp club vigorous enough to get the spring meeting and exhibition of the Pennsylvania-Ohio Stamp club league for the city, is a sure sign that philatelism is not dying, contrary to most

Jaworski Taken To State Prison From Pittsburgh

Doomed Slayer Is Whisked To Rockview This Morning In Automobile

TRIP IS MADE IN UNUSUAL SECRECY

Execution Of Bandit Scheduled To Take Place On Monday Morning

(International News Service)

ROCKVIEW PENITENTIARY, BELLEFONTE, Pa., Jan. 18.—Paul Jaworski, the arch-killer, whose life the commonwealth of Pennsylvania will claim in the electric chair next Monday, entered the penitentiary here early today after an uneventful automobile ride from Pittsburgh.

Wearing a grey suit, but no hat or overcoat, Jaworski showed an interest in the proceedings here after he had been turned over to penitentiary authorities for examination prior to being placed in a cell in the death house.

Taken in Auto Caravan

The automobile in which Jaworski rode, which also carried Sheriff Robert H. Braun of Allegheny county and Deputies B. V. Coffey and Silver Braun, was driven by a former automobile racing driver, Andy Garavini. A second automobile contained two other officers and newspapermen.

On the outskirts of this city a detachment of state highway patrolmen surrounded both cars and escorted them to the penitentiary grounds.

While Jaworski's name was being entered in the prison records, which will state after he has paid the penalty Monday, "discharged by execution", the one-time leader of the Flathead gang joked with prison attendants about what a fine spring morning fate had handed down for his last ride.

Arrival Is Surprise

His removal to the penitentiary here today came as a surprise. Prison officials had not been notified of his coming until the party was within an hour's driving distance of the

Bombers Wreck Detroit Store

Three Suspects In Detroit Bombing Under Arrest; Damage Is $150,000

BELIEVED WORK OF BLACKMAILERS

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Jan. 18.—With three suspects in custody, police today laid the blame for a gasoline explosion that razed the Garicci Furniture & Music company store here, wrecked a dozen nearby stores and theaters and caused damage estimated at more than $500,000 on unskilled bombers employed by a blackmailing ring.

In the excitement immediately attending the early morning blast, wild reports had been sent out that many persons had been killed. These reports, however, simmered down to the fact that only one person, a woman, was seriously injured. She is Mrs. Selina Martel. She was taken to receiving hospital where attaches said her recovery is doubtful.

At least 30 others, living in houses within a block and a half of the scene of the explosion, suffered bruises and shock when they were hurled from their beds by the force of the blast.

SHOE REPAIR SHOP ROBBED LAST NIGHT

Shoe repair shop of Frank Pantillo, 410 East Long avenue, was robbed some time during the night, according to the report made to the police and three pairs of shoes were found missing in checking over the goods in the place. Detective John Young and Officer Charles Longstreth were in charge of the investigation made this morning. Entrance was effected by using a key in the rear door.

Peggy accepted the mission and is shown here at left leaving Los Angeles on a Pacific steamship with Helen Herr a friend en route to Bangkok.

Leaves Of Absence For School Teachers May Be Eliminated

Board Members Do Not Believe Action Is Justice To Other Teachers

Matter Causes Discussion At Board Session; Request Not Acted On

Leaves of absence for school teachers in the New Castle public school system may be discontinued if the feeling of the school board on Thursday evening is carried out in a formal resolution.

The matter came up when the requests of John L. Brown and Miss Martha McGill for leaves of absence were received. That of Mr. Brown was asked in order that he may go further in his education, while that of Miss McGill was because of illness.

No Reason For Leaves.

"There is little reason for leaves of absence," said President Charles H. Young. "It is a one-sided affair for if the teacher gets something better he does not return."

"It is only fair to the other fellow that leaves be not granted," said Mr. McIlvenny.

"The contracts themselves are one-sided affairs," said Mr. Duff.

Mrs. Nothdurft was of the opinion that the board should take some action that would determine its policy in the future.

"If the board took no action upon

Sentences Youth To Not See Child-Bride For Six-Year Period

Youth Eighteen Weds Girl Of Twelve, Is Given Jail Sentence By Ohio Judge

(International News Service)

NILES, O., Jan. 18.—James Lucas, 18, today was under a court decree which forbids him to see his 12-year-old bride, Eunice Parsons, for the next six years.

It was learned that the two had been married in Wellsburg, W. Va., Dec. 28. When they returned here the girl met her former teacher on the street about a week later. The teacher had both brought into court.

Judge William J. Hyde, in the Trumbull county probate court, fined Lucas $50 and sentenced him to 90 days in jail on a charge of contributing to the girl's delinquency. The judge then suspended the fine on condition that the youth stays away from his girl-bride for six years, or until she is 18.

Kaltenbaugh Gets Counsel

Canton Court Names Two Attorneys To Represent Confessed Slayer

TRIAL IS LIKELY ON NEXT MONDAY

(Special To The News)

CANTON, O., Jan. 18. — Edward Kaltenbaugh, self confessed slayer of John and Bertha Oser of Canal Fulton, O., will not go to trial for his crime, without the benefit of legal counsel. Judge Agler who will preside over the trial of the 21 year old confessed slayer, has appointed Attorneys John Gorsuch and Karl Klein to defend Kaltenbaugh. In appointing the men Judge Agler ruled that the slayer could not come before the bar without counsel.

Kaltenbaugh was asked whether he had funds with which to provide counsel. He said that his mother had a farm near Grove City but that he did not think that this could be sold to get money for a defense. He also told the court that he had received a letter from a lawyer in Philadelphia who said he would defend him. He expressed surprise that any outsider would have any interest in the matter.

Court Room Filled

The court room of the Stark County Court House was filled to capacity when Kaltenbaugh was brought in on Thursday afternoon. Hundreds of curious minded people were anxious to get a glimpse of the lad who had slain two people in order that he might get an automobile just to "take his girl for a ride."

What line of defense the attorneys for Kaltenbaugh will pursue, they have not made public. They have asked for an extension of time in order to go to Grove City to question Kaltenbaugh's relatives. Judge Agler granted the extension of time and set the day for the trial as Monday morning, January 21.

The origin of the fire has not been determined.

Five Are Dead In Train Wreck; Probe Planned

Pennsy Officials To Investigate Triple Wreck Of Two Express Trains

ACCIDENT OCCURS NEAR ABERDEEN, MD.

Five Trainmen Are Dead, Several Passengers Suffer Minor Bruises

(International News Service)

ABERDEEN, Md., Jan. 18. —The death toll in the crash of three trains of the Pennsylvania railroad near here yesterday mounted to five today when Leon Sweeting of Philadelphia, engineer of a northbound local, died in Havre De Grace hospital.

The body of A. C. Terhune of Jersey City, engineer of the southbound express, was recovered this morning after workers had cut through the wreckage of the locomotive to reach it. The body had been buried under debris for 15 hours.

The accident occurred when the local ran into the rear of a freight and the express crashed into the wreckage.

Inquest Tonight

A coroner's inquest was called for tonight.

The first collision occurred at 4:40 p. m., when train No. 412, a combination mail-passenger train with eight coaches which had left Washington for Philadelphia at 3:05 p. m., crashed into the rear of extra freight No. 1472, pulling 99 cars. The passenger locomotive and the freight caboose were demolished and several freight cars were thrown across the southbound tracks. A few minutes later the crack southern express, No. 121, carrying passengers bound for Baltimore, Washington and the South, crashed into the wreckage.

Railroad officials blamed the blinding fog for the first crash, but said they could not understand why some member of the train crews of the

IMMENSE CONVENTION AND SINGING FESTIVAL COMING TO NEW CASTLE

Bi-ennial Singing Festival Of Transylvanian-Saxon Society To Bring 5,000 Here

Preliminary Plans Being Worked Out; To Use Local Cathedral

Another mammoth convention has been secured for New Castle, according to an announcement made today by Martin Leonhardt, but this convention will be a musical one, the biennial Singing Festival of Section 6 of the Transylvanian-Saxon Singing Society of North America. This biennial singing festival will take place in New Castle on September 1-2-3 of 1930 and will bring to the city not less than 5000 men and women from western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio.

There is nothing quite like the singing festivals of the Transylvanian-Saxon Singing Society of North America, save it be the national eisteddfods of the Welsh people. In character they are similar in that several days are devoted to competition among huge choruses for prizes. The festival here in September, 1930, will be under the auspices of the Eintracht Singing society of this city, the local chapter of the national organization.

A Herculean Task.

To plan for the singing festival requires the combined efforts of every member of the Eintracht and realizing the Herculean task ahead of arranging all the details of such a gigantic affair, the Eintracht officers and members are already engaged in the work.

Thus far an executive committee has been named which will head the affair. Later this executive committee will be enlarged into a committee

Mellon Attacked By Dry Leaders

Dry Leaders Describe Mellon's Record In Enforcement Nothing But "Farce"

TAX REFUND ISSUE BITTERLY FOUGHT

Battle Raging To Prevent Confirming Of Mellon In New Hoover Cabinet

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—A fresh storm of attacks on the record of Andrew W. Mellon as secretary of the treasury today thereatened to prolong senate discussion of the proposal for a $25,000,000 increase in prohibition enforcement funds and a $75,000,000 tax refund.

The third richest man in the world, who gave up his private business to direct the government's fiscal affairs, was accused of "laying down" on the job of enforcing prohibition. His record was described as a "farce" by dry leaders and he was accused of not trying to enforce the dry law.

Tempest Raging.

The prohibition battle probably will be but a tempest in a teapot compared to the really serious criticism certain to be launched at his plea for $75,000,000 to repay refunded taxes. To date, during the Mellon rule in the treasury, the government has turned back $2,614,000,000 in refunds and credits on income taxes. Much of this money has gone to large corporations and to possessors of swollen incomes.

Administration leaders saw in the dual attack on Mellon an indirect effort to keep him out of President-elect Hoover's cabinet. It was apparent the Democratic chieftains were whetting their words for Mellon, as Senator Harris (D) of Ga., conducted the dry attack and senator McKellar (D) of Tenn., prepared the tax refund assault.

Fight Confirmation.

Both subjects will be the basis, it was understood, of a fight against confirmation of Mellon should Hoover name him in the next cabinet.

The two items were contained in the first deficiency appropriation bill,

New Yorkers To Call On Hoover; Seek Patronage

New York State Republicans To Confer With Herbert Hoover In Washington

HOOVER TO LEAVE FOR SOUTH MONDAY

President-Elect In Embarrassing Position; Hopes To Please Everyone

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 — With only a couple of days to go before he departs for Florida, and with scores of people still clamoring to get his ear, Herbert Hoover plunged anew today into the stream of conferences that has occupied almost every waking moment of his time since he returned to the capital two weeks ago.

His engagement list again was filled, and to top off the day he will dine and spend the evening with President Coolidge at the White House.

Knotty Problems

Probably the knottiest problem with which the President-elect is trying to deal is the reconciliation of the various Republican factions in several states. A particularly complex case is that of New York, involving as it does the very considerable patronage of the Empire State.

Mr. Hoover has had a number of conferences with New York leaders, trying to get some agreement among them, and there were more today. On today's schedule were H. Edmund Machold, chairman of the state committee, and William H. Hill of Binghamton, the volunteer Hoover manager of New York in the November election. Their visit followed an earlier call from Charles D. Hilles, the national committeeman, who throughout the Harding-Coolidge administration has been the patronage "boss" of the state. Ogden L. Mills, assistant secretary of the treasury, and one of the Hoover pre-convention leaders, also figures in the situation.

Hilles Opposed Hoover

Hilles opposed Mr. Hoover's nomination from the start and was one of the little group at Kansas City who held out to the very last against him. Machold was appointed state

Ice Piled High Along Creek

Warm Weather Does Queer Trick With Ice On Neshannock

If you can imagine some Gargantuan monster striding up the frozen Neshannock in seven league boots, and with his powerful hands, tearing out the ice from the stream and hurling it over onto the banks, you have some mental picture of the stream banks today.

Piled high in the most chaotic disorder, with jagged cakes pointing their frozen spires out like some bergs, you have the idea.

By some queer twist, the ice did not float down the stream, or at least a large part of it did not. For some reason it was forced to the sides and piled itself up ten or fifteen feet high in places.

The bank which is guarded by the New Castle Dry Goods Company looks like a small section of Antartica, while the space under the buildings on the other side resembles an outdoor storage for some ice company.

The stream is clear, though rising a bit, but whatever danger there might be is solely from water. The ice has taken care of itself and in doing so has given the amateur photographers a scene that is well worth shooting.

Police Inspector Shot And Killed; Others Wounded

Battle Takes Place In Palatial Home In Philadelphia Early Today

CRAZED MAN SHOT BEFORE CAPTURE

Believe Shell-Shock In War Cause Of Outbreak At Quaker City Home

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 18. —Police Inspector John W. Blackburn, known as the "praying cop", was shot and killed and two other policemen wounded by W. Griffin Gribbel, 46-year-old crazed society man and a former Union League Club president, in Gribbel's palatial Chestnut Hill home early today.

Gribbel was shot three times before he was subdued by the slain man's companions.

The shooting took place when the police inspector broke into a room where the crazed man had barricaded himself after being called by neighbors. Gribbel was to be taken to a sanitarium today and it is believed that he brooded over this until he became frantic.

He was a shell-shocked World War veteran and father of six children. Blackburn had been on the police force for 26 years and was cited for

Babe Ruth Fails To Attend Final High Mass Of Requiem For Late Wife

DOROTHY RUTH IS SPIRITED AWAY

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BOSTON, Jan. 18.—"Babe" Ruth, who went into seclusion following the burial of his wife, failed, as scheduled, to attend final funeral services today—a high mass of requiem at St. Augustine's Roman Catholic church, in South Boston.

The mass was sung by Rev. Joseph Coppinger.

Mrs. Johanna Woodford, Mother of Mrs. Ruth, was too ill to attend. Three sisters were among the 50 present—Miss Nora Woodford, Mrs. Mary Tighe and Mrs. Johnanna McCarthy.

The whereabouts of nine-year-old Dorothy Ruth was, meanwhile, surrounded in mystery. She left the Academy of the Assumption at Wellesley in care of a person designated

Here's the January thaw that we always have to get, here's the thaw that breaks the ice up in the creeks, but it means but little now for we haven't had much snow, and we have no ice that's been piled up for weeks. Other years no doubt you've seen, thaws that jumped the river up, till it over ran the banks and hit the street, and whenever that occurred, you have seen or you have heard that the mess it made was anything but sweet. But the thaw this month is light, doesn't mean much to the town, and its lighter than we had in years before, but it kept its schedule up, and its here today to see, and its warmer, weather's up to sixty-four.

New Mechanic Takes Up Duties

Richards Is New Master Mechanic On E. And A. Division Of Pennsy

James S. Richards of Mingo Junction, O., has already succeeded H. L. Nancarrow to the master mechanicship of the Erie and Ashtabula division of the Pennsylvania railroad at headquarters here. Nancarrow has also assumed his new position as master mechanic of the Pennsylvania's Baltimore division at Baltimore, to which he was appointed about January 8.

The new master mechanic of the E. and A. comes from the Wheeling division of the company, where he served for a number of years as assistant master mechanic. His service for the Pennsylvania has extended over a period of 18 years, the entire portion of this having been spent in the motive power department of the company. His headquarters while connected with the Wheeling line were located at Mingo Junction, O.

Mr. Richards, who with his family, will take up residence soon at 1311 Wilmington avenue, is a veteran of the World war, having served in the field artillery for a period of 22 months. Mr. Richards has a daughter 13 years of age, and a son, 10 years old, who will enter one of the New Castle schools shortly.

While employes and officials of the E. and A. do not want to keep Mr. Richards from advancing into another position again, it is hoped at the same time that his company will have him with the local division long enough for his associates to make friendships with him. It seems as if E. and A. positions are but training grounds for master mechanics, as Mr. Richards' predecessor was just recently given a fine appointment to the Pennsy's Baltimore division.

And in the spring when the stamp clubs from this section of Pennsylvania and Ohio have their convention here, the people of New Castle will have a chance to see some of the most rabid enthusiasts of the section and see some of thee queerest stamps ever issued by this and other governments.

Pa Newc has received a copy of The Ben Franklin, published at the Ben Franklin junior high school in this city, and from a typographical and contents standpoint, Pa Newc believes it is one of the best publications of any school of the kind in America. The cover page effect, a product of the Franklin printing department is exceptionally clever and appealing.

And today we have with us—a sample of April. Temperature today is up around 50 and 60 degrees above zero. The mild weather of the past 24 hours has resulted in the entire six or seven inches of snow that covered the ground on Wednesday having disappeared.

Statement of Adjutant General Beary of the National Guard that the Engineers of this city are to be converted into cavalry, will result in stimulating interest in the unit, it is believed. For many years New Castle had a cavalry troop that was an excellent one. Then the change was made to Engineers and it has been a flourishing organization for several years past. Transfer back to cavalry will bring the unit into its original state, and will probably bring some new interest on the part of the former members. More interest on the part of citizens is urged in the outfit.

a measure that usually is enacted without debate. The bill also contained an $8,400,000 item for a new house office building and lesser emergency items.

In an effort to save Mellon from further attack on the prohibition issue, Senator Jones (R) of Washn., an administration dry, proposed to reduce the dry fund to $1,250,000. Senator Warren (R) of Wyo., chairman of the senate appropriations committee, who led the fight against the $25,000,000 fund, immediately announced he would accept it. The $1,250,000 would be used chiefly to employ additional dry agents, although $250,000 would be used to "disseminate information" and pay "traveling expenses."

The tax refund matter long has been the subject of Democratic criticism. The refunds have been made secretly, and except for members of the special congressional tax commission, the details aren't even given to senators and representatives. If the taxpayer is satisfied, the refund can't even be aired in court. On one occasion, Senator Couzens (R) of Mich., directed an investigation into the subject but congress never took any action to change it.

of 100, and among this big committee will be sub-divided the details of all the work. The executive committee is composed of the following: President, John Lienert; secretary, Martin Leonhardt; treasurer, John Neugebauer; Martin Binder, Martin Schlager, Paul Staedel, George Kappes, George Hietsch, Fred Schuller, John Schuller and George Broos.

Section six of the Transylvanian-Saxon Singing Society of North America is composed of chapters in the following cities: New Castle, Cleveland (3), Detroit (2), Erie (2), Lorain, Salem, Youngstown, Alliance, Canton, Farrell and Homestead.

Wonderful Choruses.

While there will be competitions on solos, duets, quartets and the like, and also oratorical contests, the chief feature of the festival will be the choral singing. Male choruses, mixed choruses, ladies' choruses, all will strive for the prizes, which will be handsome in size. The works of Lizst, Schubert, Mozart, Strauss, Wagner, Beethoven and other Germany composers will be featured, with part of the singing in English, but most of it in German. The singing will be under the general direction of Professor Nischwits of Youngstown, O., with five adjudicators giving the final decisions on the winners.

Upon the day previous to the opening of the festival the annual convention of the society will be held and all business details disposed of. This convention as well as the singing festival will be held in the Cathedral.

Housing the 5000 or more men and women who will be here will constitute a problem that will require careful handling, and the executive committee is now engaged in selecting a committee that will handle this particular feature.

Huge Tents For Meals.

A rather unusual feature of the festival here will be the commissary tent which always accompanies the festivals. This is an enormous tent which is put up and a large corps of cooks and waiters installed inside. The meals are served in this tent and a site that is convenient is now being sought. The serving of meals inside this tent adds a rather picturesque flavor to the whole thing and promotes the idea of a three-day picnic.

Realizing the enormity of the task ahead the executive committee of the Eintracht is planning carefully for the festival. It is a distinct honor for any city to secure the festival and Mr. Lienert and his associates intend to make this festival one of the best the society has ever held.

The festival promises to be one of more than ordinary interest. Not only will it bring 5000 guests to New Castle, but it will provide a musical spectacle seldom seen in any city in the United States.

requests it would automatically create a vacancy," said Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent. "It is not our policy to bar good people from our system, but it sometimes creates false impressions if leaves are granted. One board cannot determine what action a future board might want to take, but a leave of absence leaves it open for the teacher to come back. If they get something better they do not return. Under the present contract a teacher is in continuous service unless he gives notice 30 days before the close of the term of his decision to leave the system. This would make it appear that a leave was not necessary in case of sickness."

"If people are sick we cannot expect them to work," said J. Herbert McIlvenny. "I will move to lay the matter on the table for future action."

The tabling of the motion thus leaves the requests for leaves not acted upon but if the informal remarks of the board are to be taken as their understanding of the present contract, it is not necessary for a teacher to get a leave of absence in case of sickness, and no leaves will be granted to teachers going back to school or taking other positions.

Chauffeur Wounded

Joseph Lawrence, Blackburn's chauffeur, was shot in the arm when he went to his chief's aid. Another bluecoat received a minor wound.

Tear gas bombs were used before Gribbel was captured.

Gribbel, a son of John Gribbel, well-known financier, was discharged from the army with the rank of major after he had been gassed while in charge of a flame and gas regiment in France. The shooting was done with an army revolver.

He was operated upon, being taken to the Chestnut Hill hospital and three bullets removed. He is resting comfortably, although his condition is serious, physicians said.

Mrs. Gribbel and W. J. Latta, a brother-in-law of the crazed man, have been held as material witnesses.

NEW YORKERS TO CALL ON HOOVER; SEEK PATRONAGE

chairman at Hilles' instigation in the middle of the campaign. They control the state organization and in the natural course of things would dictate patronage in New York. However, Mr. Hoover cannot overlook the fact that the organization was opposed to him and that his real boosters in the state were outside of the organization. There is a debt of recognition there that must be paid.

The President-elect is trying to compose the differences, but he hasn't arrived at any definite solution yet. The situation is further complicated by the rival aspirations of various New Yorkers.

Friends of Ex-Senator "Jim" Wadsworth want to make him secretary of war; friends of Mills want him to become secretary of the treasury. If Mellon is not reappointed; friends of Ambassador Houghton, now at London, are booming him for secretary of state; Ambassador Morrow's friends are similarly occupied, and finally Albert Ottinger, who was defeated for the governorship, is credited with an ambition for a major diplomatic appointment. Ottinger was among Mr. Hoover's callers today, although not with Machold and Hilles.

It is all a grand mix-up and one that is full of potential trouble and emberrassments unless the differences can be reconciled.

LARGE ICICLES ARE REMOVED

Large icicles formed on the edge of the city building roof during the recent cold weather, and which were a menace to pedestrians passing along the street beneath them, have all been removed by members of the city fire department.

POLITICAL EQUALITY

AT LAST the political equality of the sexes has been determined definitely and conclusively, now, henceforth and forevermore. It seems that the ladies are not only as noble as the males but just as weak and erring. They are capable of matching man's sinful nature in political crimes and wickedness and must take the consequences before the law without sex as a mitigating circumstance.

It has been so decided by the courts in a number of states where "lady" politicians have been convicted of tampering with the votes of the sovereign people, or of misusing their funds, and have been sent to prison. The sex of the accused, the courts have declared, is immaterial.

Somehow or other, the incident calls to mind a prophecy made long since—to wit: the entrance of women in politics would be more picturesque than uplifting. In his infinite wisdom that prophet anticipated the discovery that women, after all, are human. Flesh is flesh, no matter how diversely shaped and differentiated as to external draperies. Under the school girl complexion as under the beard lies capacity for good and evil.

And now it is officially recognized. It's share and share alike in honor and rascality from now on. The girls who have been struggling for absolute equality have achieved a notable victory. They can go to jail like men.

COOLIDGE WINS THIS TITLE

IF BREVITY be the soul of wit, as the poet has proclaimed, then President Coolidge is entitled to the distinction of being at the head of his class. He has but forty-six and a half days of his term left, and it is announced from the white house that during this period he will make only two formal speeches. One will be before the semi-annual business meeting of the government departments on January 28, and the other at the dedication of a bird sanctuary in Florida on the first of February.

Mr. Coolidge has humorously said that he is at least entitled to the credit of being the healthiest president we have had in the white house in recent years; he might well add that he has been the least talkative. Yet he has never hesitated to talk when the occasion called for an expression of his opinion. Two or three very celebrated vetoes are proof of that fact. But he has strictly confined himself to the business of the government, and has not attempted to preach to the people and tell them how they shall order their lives. In other words, he has been strictly on the job, and has attended to that with such devotion that his administration will go down in history as one of the most successful we have had in our time.

There are few positions which offer a man a better forum than the presidency, but Mr. Coolidge has used this so sparingly that it has had an effectiveness which is denied the merely loquacious person.

CHANGING MENU

THE American menu appears to be changing more and more to fresh fruits, vegetables and dairy products instead of the heavy starchy foods which formerly made up the bill of fare. The change of much of the national population from physical to mental labor, from physical to nervous activity, is credited with bringing this about.

To meet this new bill of fare use of ice in the United States has more than doubled in the last ten years, the consumption per capita being now more than a thousand pounds a year. Cold storage warehouses listed by the department of agriculture have a combined capacity of 600,000,000 cubic feet and they handle a million carloads of refrigerator freight a year. Consumption of the sixteen principal fruits and vegetables has increased 100 per cent since 1924.

This change in the national appetite has brought better health, improved the American dinner table, made "big business" of truck farming, fruit growing, dairy farming and put hundreds of thousands of acres to profitable use, made the ice and storage industry prosperous and took a number of railroads out of the hands of the receivers. There are large sections in California, Florida, Ohio, New Jersey and other states which owe their present progress and prosperity to this increased appetite for fresh fruit, green vegetables and pure, rich dairy products.

Most of the big jobs are held down by men who never won a prize for oratory.

Examples of pedestrian having the last word: "Toot' darn you; I've got a right here."

If you know it but can't put it into words, and he says it as you'd like to, he's a great author.

The happiest times are those placid periods during which the world produces no great men.

As to the effectiveness of harsher laws, how many juries would convict if the penalty for speeding were life imprisonment?

Americanism: Calmly breaking laws you think foolish; scorning people who break other laws they don't like.

There won't be another war until there's a new generation that never got bawled out for neglecting to salute a second looey.

Tight times are those in which the bank can't lend you your neighbor's money because Wall Street needs it to gamble with.

The S. O. Quadruplets.
30 Loads of Airmail.
Helen Wills' Husband.
Four Great Old Men.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1929, King Features Syn., Inc.)

Standard Oil of Indiana went skyrocketing Wednesday as everybody might have known it would do.

Mr. Rockefeller asked for proxies to put Col. Stewart out. Col. Stewart asked for proxies to stay in. The quickest way to get proxies is to BUY them. The stock calmed down after somebody bought 95,000 shares of it.

It's a hard fight and when it is over this question will arise:

Assuming that Col. Stewart, now head of Standard Oil of Indiana, defeats John D. Rockefeller, Jr., as Wall Street believes that he will do, how will that affect Standard Oil of Indiana?

The doctors said one Siamese twin couldn't live if the other were cut away. The little Standard Oil octopuses of New York, New Jersey, Indiana, California are Siamese quadruplets. What will happen to one if it is cut away? What will happen to the other three with little sister from Indiana gone?

Wise business men use the air mail. They are interested in building up a most important government institution, and they know that letters marked air mail command attention.

Thursday John N. Willys sent from Toledo more than 30 airplanes carrying 30,000 pounds of air mail addressed to 6,000 towns in every state in the union.

This "batch of letters" included 700,000 pieces of mail concerning Mr. Willys' Whippet car.

Twenty army pursuit planes from Selfridge field accompanied the mail planes, making a first class spectacle in proof of commercial aviation development in the United States.

Everybody's peaceful, nobody wants war, but if we DID have war it is comforting to remember that those 30 mail planes, with army pursuit planes to accompany and protect them, could carry 30,000 pounds of food and medical supplies, or 30,000 pounds of poison gas, or explosives to discourage invading forces on sea or land.

Helen Wills, wonderful California girl, will marry Frederick Shander Moody, Jr., of San Francisco, a union that interests the whole nation.

Those who believe that the human race could be quickly and greatly improved if the right young men married the right young women will be interested in this wedding, and hope that Mr. Moody may be worthy of his wonderful good fortune.

Clemenceau and Foch, to whom France owes most in this generation, were both ill, and both are better, good news for everybody.

Clemenceau, the "Old Tiger", enjoys life in spite of his 87 years. The world hopes that he will go on long enjoying it, also the gratitude of his friends, and the animosity of his enemies.

He enjoys one as much as the other.

In a war that enlisted the youth, energy and intelligence of many great nations, the four men standing out above all others were all old men, Lloyd George, Foch, Clemenceau, Von Hindenburg.

North Dakota and Illinois favor calling our language "the American language", not the "English language."

A bill is introduced in the North Dakota legislature to that effect.

Patriotism is admirable in all its forms, but after all it is the "ENGLISH LANGUAGE." We borrowed it from the English and we adopted it. A spade is a spade, and English is English. It is a first class language, created by the genius of English writers and orators, and will keep its name.

We can afford to give credit where it is due. Other nations credit us with the telephone, flying machine, the phonograph, the steamboat and a few other things that really are AMERICAN, and don't try to change their nationality.

While we ask a few questions, and get no very satisfactory answer, and sign a peace pact, wise France appropriates 989,000,000 francs for 18 warships. One 10,000-ton cruiser is intended among them, also "six cruising submarines," gigantic undersea battleships; and a big submarine to lay mines, for blowing up enemy ships, is also included.

The French like peace and peace pacts, but they also like SAFETY, and mean to have it.

National prohibition was 10 years old Wednesday, and Mr. Whalen, New York's new police commissioner, celebrated by raiding 32 speakeasies, arresting 39 men. This left about 24,968 speakeasies operating in New York City, and heaven knows how many hundreds of thousands throughout the whole United States.

You can lead men to water, they won't all drink it.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 5:02. Sun rises tomorrow 7:19.

Where are those chaps who predicted a mild winter?

We predicted a more or less cold winter and are sticking to it.

Most winters are predicted on account of the amount of fur certain animals grow for cold protection. The clothes that humans wear is no sign.

"An "improved model" is one that has some attachment whose only function is to make you dissatisfied with the old one.

A great deal of respect is due the citizen who keeps the snow and ice off his pavements.

We heard a man call another Santy Claws yesterday. This bird did not even have the whiskers of Santy Claws and none of the alleged characteristics of the whiskered saint.

BUT WE THOUGHT PROFESSORS COULDN'T AFFORD CARS!

"Do you want gas?" asked the dentist as he placed the patient in the chair.

"Yes" said the absent-minded professor. "About five gallons—and take a look at the oil.

Goodwill is the biggest asset a human or a business man can have. People who persistently refuse to pay what they owe when it is due lose many times more than the cash amounts to. A lot of nice things are said about those who pay their debts promptly and they can have a lot of other vices also.

This may be an old-fashioned winter but it's about the only thing around that is old-fashioned. An old-fashioned skirt also causes a lot of rubbering.

A bill prohibiting the sale of canned heat to those who would drink it is before the Pennsylvania legislature. It would not be hard for any canned heat dealer to tell the customer who would lick up a scuttle of canned heat.

HE DIDN'T SEE IT.

A mid-western farmer and his wife went to Chicago on business and while there they attended the theater several times.

One of the attractions was a sudden musical revue in which were scenes, where, following present styles, various actresses wore little if any clothes.

In one scene a woman harpist twanged at the strings while several girls danced about her. On the way back to the hotel the farmer's wife was reviewing the performance in her mind.

"By the way" she said "what was that tune the woman played on the harp?'

"Good gosh" her husband exclaimed 'Was there a harp?"

You can tell a civilized country. It's one where people kill the birds and then spend millions to fight insects.

How pleasant a winter resort would be if none of the palms were horizontal.

The radio is a blessing to a hick town. People can set their watches now without calling central.

WATCH YOUR STEP

Let no man presume to give advice to others that has not first given good council to himself.—Seneca.

A lady in Pittsburgh claimed a divorce because her husband drank to excess and once threatened to shoot her. The judge refused it and said he thought the charges of excessive drinking charged in divorce case was exaggerated. Oh wham de doodle wham!

That beautiful snow stuff is all right to look at from a nice warm room but it's different when one tried to get a stalled automobile out of it or even just has to listen to picturesque remarks made hurriedly and feverishly by the driver of a stalled auto.

SAFE THROUGH IT ALL.

An old darkey got up one night in meeting and said:

"Bredders an' sisters—you knows and I knows that I ain't been what I oughter been. L'se robbed hen-roosts an' stole hogs an' tol' lies an' got drunk an' slashed folks wi' ma razor, and shot craps an' cuss'd an' swore, but thank de Lord dere's one thing I ain't never done—I ain't never lost ma religion."

There were a great many snow shoveling jobs in New Castle during the past week but no needy chaps were round looking for a job. After we had nearly busted ourselves making paths through the snow at our place a bum came along and wanted car fare to Butler. We gave it to him because he was too badly wrecked to even lift a snow shovel. If he had been husky he would have heard a few kind words—and that's all.

LOVING AND DRIVING:

Magistrate Glatzmeyer has ruled in New York's traffic court that steering an automobile while embracing a woman is not reckless driving. "However," he suggested to the affectionate motorist, "when you want to hug your girl, why don't you drive over to the side of the street and stop?"

Execrable advice! If every one-arm driver followed it, there would be a perpetual traffic jam from Portland, Me., to the Everglades of Florida.

A Kansas City woman who shot the rent collector was overwhelmed with chagrin and apologized most profusely when she discovered her mistake. She thought he was her husband.

LOTS JUST LIKE HIM

A mighty stubborn cuss is he,
The worst I've ever known;
He is so blind that he won't see,
And he can not be shown.

Down at Ellwood City one night this week the Senior class of the High school had a play and during the performance a nice little young lad thanked all those who contributed to the success of the venture and mentioned The News as having helped a lot. It isn't often a newspaper gets any thanks for furnishing the most important item in such things which is the absolutely necesary publicity.

Nature tries to balance things. The smaller the husband, the taller the pile of bundles he carries.

A swell wedding in New York was referred to as "Swankey." We are afraid to look that word up because we might not be able to use it. Most of those swell weddings usually wind up sort of rough at that.

A NEW YEAR THOUGHT

No new sin has been discovered for 2,000 years, says a scientist. That speaks well for the popularity of the old brands.

My Bonnie leaned over the gas tank,
The height of the contents to see;
He lighted a match to assist him—
Oh, bring back my Bonnie to me.

You can tell an American in hell When winter comes, he stays indoors and yells for more heat.

SPENDING

Henry Ford advises young men to spend their money if they would be successful—News Item.

If you would be successful and become a millionaire,
If you would be a leader of the throng,
Take a tip from Mr. Ford, do not all your money hoard,
Spend your wages as you're journeying along.
But you'll find there's much depending on the way you do your spending,
And for what you let your dollars go to buy.
There's no future joy or leisure in the money spent for pleasure,
And no triumph for the lad who flies too high.

Buy the books you want to read, buy the working tools you need.
Buy the knowledge that will serve you later on,
But don't fling your coin away for one foolish hour of play
Or you'll find that you'll regret it when it's gone.
Boy, be watchful of expenses, the first rule of common sense is
Those who spend their all have nothing to invest
And the man who buys the stocks or the downtown building blocks
Is always one with money in his chest.

Be a spender but a wise one. If a prize you have your eyes on
Do not quibble o'er a dollar or a dime.
Have a goal and then pursue it, but just spending coin won't do it,
The important thing is how you spend your time.
Though you never get to college, spend your days acquiring knowledge,
Spend your time in learning why and when and how.
If you really want to do things, spend your time in learning new things,
That's what Mr. Ford is doing even now!

King Alexander's Dictatorship Called Logical Development

Hope Of Stability In War-Born Balkan Nation Seen In Assumption Of Supreme Power By Its Aggressive Monarch

America with the rest of the world seems to accept the dictatorship of King Alexander in Jugoslavia as a logical development and, perhaps, the only road to stability in the troubled war-born Kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes.

As the SAINT PAUL PIONEER PRESS describes the Balkan monarch's assumption of supreme power: "Still another European country has gone in for the dictatorship idea. This time it is Jugoslavia, stormy petrel of the Balkans, and the novel thing about it is that for once a king is doing the dictating. Mussolini elbowed aside the Italian King and Rivera in Spain made King Alfonso a figurehead.  But the expiring institution of royalty is showing decided signs of life at Belgrade. There, at the capital of Jugoslavia, King Alexander has suspended the constitution, dismissed Parliament and made himself the only real strong king still in the business."

Of this action the WATERBURY REPUBLICAN says: "The step he took was as radical as could easily be imagined, but it is logical in view of his popularity all over the kingdom and the fact that loyalty to him is about the only thing the three peoples who make it up have in common."

Reviewing causes, the PHILADELPHIA RECORD explains this "act of royal usurpation" as the result "of conditions and forces which had brought Jugoslavia to the verge of civil war," noting particularly the stern, implacable defiance of the government at Belgrade by the Croatians since the assassination of their leader, Raditch, last summer, with their recent ultimatum—"We recognize only two institutions—the people and the King. These alone can save the state."

The irritant in this Balkan governmental structure which is an attempt "to unite the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes under one government and in one nation, observes the LEXINGTON LEADER, was supplied by the Serbs, who from the beginning "have assumed to be the principal element and dominating unit."

As the NEWARK EVENING NEWS views the situation previous to the dictatorship, "The Serbs have seemed to look upon it as a greater Serbia," and this paper believes that King Alexander intends "to be King of all the groups in his kingdom, giving the non-Serbian elements a fairer deal than they received at the hands of the Serb-controlled Parliament."

Will he be successful? The SPOKANE SPOKESMAN-REVIEW asks the question: "How can King Alexander know that he can interpret the true voice of the people? All tyrants and dictators profess that power of divination," continues this paper, but only once in a century or so does the world see a ruling genius who really has it."

The future of the tri-headed country as the editors see it, is still on the lap of the gods, with the world in general amazed at the calmness with which this fundamental change in rule has been made. "The radical change which has been forced upon Jugoslavia has been received with such a remarkable absence of fireworks and warlike fervor that the world is inclined to ask if the Balkans have departed from the trouble-making role which they have so long played," remarks the NEW YORK SUN, as it predicts that if King Alexander succeeds in welding his people into one, "he will be acclaimed as the savior of his kingdom and the benefactor of the Slavic race."

In the condition of Jugoslavia the BOSTON EVENING TRANSCRIPT sees "one of the advantages of the monarchial system of government—even of a constitutional monarchy" in that "in times of stress or anarchy an unlimited power may be assumed by the royal head pending the restoration of normal conditions."

Conditions have never been satisfactory in this country created after the World War, according to many newspaper observers. The NEW BEDFORD EVENING STANDARD says that the nation has "been so split into blocs that the parliament has been more or less impotent," and the "government has been incapable of doing anything that might straighten out the tangle and establish a measure of national unity." The NEW YORK EVENING POST gives an insight into the difficulties by listing the racial groups whose inherent differences must be reconciled—"Serbians, Croatians, Slovenes, Dalmattians, Bosnians, Montengrins, Hezegovinians and other peoples"—and declares: "No nation born of the war has faced such a terrific problem as has Jugoslavia in endeavoring to weld together the divergent elements in its population."

Referring to the constitution that has been set aside, the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN comments: "The constitution makers of 1921 blundered in making Jugoslavia a contralized state and the Croats have since protested energetically against the Serbification of the administration." The SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS sees in recent developments some indication that "the kingdom may be reorganized as a federation of three states, under a common sovereign and cabinet" and believes that "that arrangement should satisfy Serbs, Croats and Slovenes, who have found it practically impossible to work together under the centralized system which the 1921 constitution established."

The present drastic remedy of a dictatorship, however, the MANCHESTER UNION believes must be only temporary, lasting just long enough for the king to build up a "new political organization that will lead his people back to constitutional government," even though, at the moment, according to the CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR, "one can sympathize with the monarch's exasperation at the futilities of the Skuptchina", now passing into ancient history. As the CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER says, the old regime failed in "the establishment of a truly unified national consciousness."

That it is of world importance to have the nation unified is the opinion of the ELMIRA GAZETTE, which concludes: "The dissolution of Jugoslavia would alter the balance of power in Europe. It would weaken France and strengthen Fascist Italy. The problem is critical, but not beyond solution," concludes this paper.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

BETTER DO IT.

The Hon. Nicholas Longworth wants the House of Representatives, of which he is Speaker, to get right busy and pass a Congressional Reapportionment Bill. If the good citizens who elect Congressmen would take fifteen minutes to find out just what it is that Mr. Longworth is demanding, there would be a Reapportionment Bill in short order. As at present constituted the House of Representatives is misnamed. It is only about 50 per cent representative.

The framers of the Constitution foresaw that this would be a rapidly growing country and that population might shift this way and that. So they provided that each ten years there should be a Census and that the House of Representatives should be reapportioned on the basis of this Census. However, after the 1920 Census, Congress disregarded what many think is a mandatory provision of the Constitution.

In reapportioning the House each ten years, the usual practice was to increase its size. Otherwise states which did not grow so fast as their neighbors would lose one or more representatives in Congress. The easy alternative was to increase the size of the House so that no state would lose any representative that it already had. Under this system rapidly growing states increased their representation. Thus the House grew to its present unwieldy bulk.

It is too late to reapportion on the basis of the 1920 Census. Mr. Longworth proposes to pass a bill now which will set the size of the House at 435, its present figure. If this is done a reapportionment on the basis of the 1920 Census, when it is made, will be a simple matter of arithmetic. The total population of the country will be divided by 435. The result will be a figure probably in excess of 300,000. That will be the basis of representation. For each 300,000 odd of population or major fraction of that figure, a state will receive one representative.

Under the present apportionment some states, such as California and Michigan, have fewer Congressmen than they are entitled to on the basis of the 1920 count. Other states have comparatively more than they are entitled to.

A representative from the big city district may have four or five times the number of constituents as a representative from a rural district. Naturally his job is much more onerous because of that. He must have more clerks, answer more mail, etc. Yet his vote in the House counts no more nor less than any other man's.

The present condition, if continued, might result in a situation where an actual minority of the population could choose a President of the United States.

Apportionment of the Electoral College, which chooses the President, is based on membership of the House and Senate. Each State has as many electoral votes as it has senators and representatives in Congress. Thus suppose two states on a basis of the 1910 Census had equal representation in Congress, and equal numbers of electors. Suppose one state had grown to twice the size of the other. Since there has been no reapportionment, they still are equal in the number of electors. The situation is that the voter of the larger state has only half a vote for President in comparison with the voter in the smaller state.

That is not an impossible development. It might easily come about in a close presidential election today and in four more years, with the present trend in population continuing, it would be almost certain to come about.

Lawrence County will continue to be a part of some Congressional District when the new apportionment is made.

by the "Babe." It was understood that she was to have been taken to New York.

Conferences Held

Conferences were in progress between attorneys over the child as well as regarding the disposition of Mrs. Helen Woodford Ruth's estate and the possession of her letters, jewelry and trinkets. The first legal move to secure the belongings found in the ruins of Dr. Edward H. Kinder's bungalow in Watertown was a petition by Mrs. Johanna McCarthy, a sister of Mrs. Ruth, she asked for an order to restrain Chief of Police John Millmore of Watertown from surrendering to "The Babe" or anyone else the contents of a strong box and a cardboard case found in the fire ruins.

Probate Judge John C. Leggett of Middlesex county denied the petition on the ground that Mrs. McCarthy was not a legal heir of Mrs. Ruth and that there was no evidence to show that there were documents or jewelry in Chief Millmore's possession which belonged or pertained to Mrs. McCarthy.

FIVE ARE DEAD IN TRAIN WRECK; PROBE PLANNED

northbound passenger train or the northbound freight did not flag the oncoming southern express. The engineer and fireman of both passenger trains, whose testimony would be the most important to the investigators, are either dead or too badly injured to be questioned at present.

Fritz Kreisler Injured

It was considered a miracle that no passengers were killed. According to railroad officials, not one passenger was injured seriously, although many of them were shaken up when several coaches and three sleeping cars were derailed. Fritz Kreisler, famous violinist, was injured slightly.

The passengers proceeded to their destinations on relief trains while wrecking crews cleared the tracks.

The four tranmen killed were T. J. Kavanaugh of New York City, fireman of the southbound express; A. C. Terhune of Jersey City, its engineer; B. W. Stewart of Baltimore, flagman of the freight, and K. A. Klein of Baltimore, freight brakeman. Stewart and Klein were trapped in the caboose of the freight and killed instantly.

Engineer Dying

Leon Sweeting of Philadelphia, engineer of the northbound train, was reported to be dying in Havre De Grace hospital. J. H. Lee, fireman of that train, was scalded but is expected to recover.

Responsibility may rest with Sweeting or Stewart, the dead flagman, officials said. They are trying to learn whether either northbound train ran by a signal in the fog. The passengers included Dr. Henry Van Dyke, a member of the faculty of Princeton University. Dr. Van Dyke was en route to Baltimore. He escaped injury, as did many others who crawled through broken winodws to safety.

One hundred and fifty yards of track were ripped up. All trains were rerouted over the Baltimore and Ohio line from Perryville to Bay View.

penitentiary. It had been understood here that Jaworski would not be brought here from Pittsburgh until tomorrow.

Sheriff Robert Braun stated that Jaworski was brought to his office in Pittsburgh late last night from his cell in the Allegheny county jail and shortly after was started on his last ride.

Mrs. Catherine Lucille Logan of Detroit, the killer's sister, the Pittsburgh officers said, did not see her brother when he was brought to the sheriff's office last night, leaving a few minutes before he entered.

Breakfast was served the condemned man in his death house cell, in which he will remain until early Monday morning when he must pay with his life for the slaying of a mine payroll guard at Mollenaur, near Pittsburgh, December 24, 1926.

Governor Will Not Act.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 18.—Governor John S. Fisher will not interfere with the recommendation of the state board of pardons that Paul Jaworski, Allegheny county murderer, die Monday in the electric chair.

A letter from Katherine L. Logan, Jaworski's sister, arrived today at the executive offices. The governor instructed a reply be sent to her saying that the case had been considered carefully by the board and that under the circumstances he did not feel warranted in issuing a respite.

The plea for commutation before the board at its hearings Tuesday was based on the allegation that Jaworski is insane.

Travelers Hold An Interesting Affair

Get Together Affair For Members And Families Is Big Success

One of the most successful social events in the history of New Castle Council No. 408, United Commercial Travelers was an event of Thursday evening in the Sons of Union Veterans hall in the city building.

More than a hundred members and their families were in attendance and had a very pleasant time. Featuring the evening was the presentation of a one act play "Take Me Back" in which an old time school scene was enacted.

The characters were presented with such an exactness and in such a mirth producing manner that the entire audience was kept in an uproar from the start to the finish.

The cast of characters follows: Polly Prim, Mrs. T. A. McCurdy; Sally McGinnis, Mrs. M. T. Boulden; Dora Dumbell Mrs. B. J. Parker; Winnie Wiklkle, Miss Irene Rotnour; Percy Pickleweight, G. H. Colnot; Abie Rosenstine, C. D. Minick; Joe Avoirdupois, Ray F. Hall; Mickey McGuire, H. G. Allen; Prof. I. Doolittle, A. T. Metcalfe.

Presentation of the play was followed by cars and informal social time which was thoroughly enjoyed. At the close of the evening an excellent lunch was served.

James Francis was chairman of the affair.

New York Apaches Live In Tunnels

Pipe Tunnels Are Headquarters For Many Men During Winter Months

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Reminiscent of the underground Apaches who infested the sewers of Paris as the scourge of police for years, a chance pickup by police during Police Commissioner Whalen's drive to rid the city of undesirables disclosed an underground colony 90 feet below the sidewalks of New York.

Asked his habitat by a magistrate, Theodore Moehler, 22, said he didn't know but it was down a "pipe tunnel" that stretched for "miles and miles".

Police investigation revealed that the tunnel was the underground pipe galleries used by the New York Central railroad to carry hot water from its power plant into the Grand Central terminal and other large buildings in the Fifth and Park avenue districts.

Will Holt, superintendent of the galleries, told police that the place was the headquarters of many during the winter and that they lived there unmolested and in a certain sort of comfort.

Peter's Adventures in Animal Land

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

ON WITH THE DANCE

One of the Wild Turkeys had spoken to Gobbler, and Gobbler had answered him so quickly that the boy had not caught the words. He nudged his friend again.

"Say, Turkey, tell me what that fellow said!" demanded he. "I can understand Turkey talk sometimes but not when they gobble as fast as those fellows do."

Gobbler looked a bit crestfallen as he answered the boy.

"He told me that we had arrived just in time. Seeds are scarce in these parts and the Turkeys would starve to death if they had to wait for fruit to fall from the trees. So they are about to set out for the river lands where food is ready for the picking.

"That is why they dance—because the time has come to start. Not in my honor at all. Ha! Ha! I shall join the old Gobblers—I tell you right now I have had quite enough of family life and the further I can stay away from my clucking wives with their half-grown broods the better I shall like it. They fight over every scratch I make. The life of the wilds for me, my lad! Hurrah! Hurrah!"

Gobbler capered about more frantically than ever, his excitement spread and for a moment or two all that the boy could see was a mob of leaping fowls, every one of whom appeared to be doing his best to rise higher into the air and make more noise than his companions. Sunddenly some one called:

"The youngsters are coming!"

At the words the Turkeys stopped their dancing, formed themselves into two large groups. And it seemed to Peter that now they really were angry.

"What are they going to do?" asked he, leaning down and whispering into

"THEY FIGHT OVER EVERY SCRATCH I MAKE"

Gobbler's ear. "They look to me as if they were getting ready to fight."

Gobbler nodded and began to back slowly away.

"I belive you are right, boy," said he. "I have heard that the old Wild Turkeys are dreadfully jealous of the young ones, and if they think the youngsters are going to scratch up the food that should belong to them they fight with their own sons and kill them if they can.

"I don't like the idea myself. I wish now that I had never come up the mountain."

Fishing Licenses Sent To Counties

Cost Of Licenses This Year Will Be Same As Last, Is Statement

HARRISBURG, Jan. 18.—Every county treasurer in the commonwealth now has been furnished with both the resident and non-resident fisherman's licenses for the year 1929. The cost of the resident license will remain the same as in 1928—$1.50, plus 10 cents for the county treasurer's fee. The non-resident license is reciprocal, but in no instance is the fee to be less than $2.50.

The board urges upon all fishermen to secure their licenses at as early a date as possible, so that the board will have sufficient funds available for continuing its construction work at the sites for the two new hatcheries, at Tionesta and Reynoldsdale. The total receipts from the sale of licenses for the year 1927 amounted to $293,397, and for the year 1928, $382,914. This is an increase of $90,000 over 1927.

How to make canned vegetables even more appetizing

The taste of nearly all good foods is improved with sugar

SCIENCE now knows that the great majority of the canned fruits and vegetables on the market today are rich in vitamins.

This is great news to all who wish to be well fed and healthy. In order that your family may relish these healthful foods, be sure that they are served in the most appetizing way possible. For example, add one level teaspoonful of sugar to one can of corn when heating it for serving. One rounded tablespoonful, at least, of sugar should be added to one can of tomatoes to develop the taste and make them palatable and delicious. The flavor of canned peas is improved by adding one-half to one teaspoonful of sugar to each can, and for string beans add one-fourth to one-half teaspoonful per can. The general rule is that all canned vegetables should be sweetened to taste so that they will be more enjoyable.

As a nationally recognized medical authority says, . . . "canned tomatoes after three years were as rich in vitamins as raw tomatoes . . . canned strawberries were also found to equal raw strawberries in vitamin content." He names numerous other canned fruits and vegetables and all were found rich in vitamins.

Welcome the canned foods to your table. To do so is to welcome health to your home. Eat plenty of varied, nourishing foods sweetened for taste and zest. A bit of sweet makes the meal complete. The Sugar Institute.

City Newsies Organize F. R. N. B. Club Thursday

Fred Rentz N. B. Is Name Given To Organization Of Newsboys

Lads Elect Albert Biondi President At Meeting Thursday Evening

Some 35 newsboys met Thursday evening at the Y. M. C. A. and following a dinner served in the cafeteria, the lads organized into the F. R. N. B. club, meaning the Fred Rentz News Boys club. They will be known as the Fred Rentz N. B's.

The lads ate a hearty spread and immediately started a business meeting which was in charge of William Thomas, boys' secretary of the Y.

Albert Biondi was elected president of the new club; Alfonso Adell, vice president; Joe Cavella, secretary, and Paul Cristofer, treasurer. These four officers will meet and draw up a set of laws for the club.

The plan is to make rules regarding newsboy conduct, and in addition to the officers a special committee composed of Patsy Ross, John Dellaverson and Andy Espoito will act as a court which will try the various members of the club for misdemeanors and infringements against the rules.

F. R. N. B. will also symbolize F-Fun, R-Right, N-Neat, B-Best, and all of the lads are going to do all in their power to live up to the standards of the organization.

Regular meetings will take place for the lads.

Capt. Craig Speaks To Reserve Officers

Next Meeting Of Unit Will Take Place Thursday Night At Elks Club

"Reconnoisance and Occupancy of Position" was the subject discussed by Captain Melvin L. Craig, in charge of the reserve officers' work in the New Castle district, when a group meeting of reserve officers took place in his headquarters in the Temple building on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Because of the inclemency of the weather, but few officers attended the meeting.

"Just why reserve officers do not understand that attendance at these meetings is imperative to their position in the reserve army of the United States, I cannot understand," stated Captain Craig this morning when commenting on last night's meeting. "They are required by the war department to attend a certain number of meetings, and I am sorry to say the officers in the New Castle district are falling down miserably.

"The result of non-attendance at meetings is seen every day. Every day the war department drops reserve officers from the lists, and it is getting harder and harder to get reinstated. If officers do not attend meetings, then the war department believes that they are not the type of men fitted to lead other men in time of war."

The next meeting of the reserve officers will take place Thursday evening at 6:30 in the main dining room of the Elks club, when the president of the Pennsylvanit Reserve Officers' association will be the speaker of the evening. Every reserve officer in the Shenango valley district should attend the meeting, states Captain Craig.

SUIT IS BROUGHT ON GASOLINE BILL

John F. Hromyak has filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against John J. Burns and Robert W. Burns, partners trading as Burns Bros., to collect a bill of $575.05, alleged to be due on a gasoline account.

People Return To Same Hotels

Many Travelers To Chicago Always Register At Favorite Hostelry

POLKA DOT SHOES NEW WOMEN'S FAD

By IONE QUINBY
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to The New Castle News

CHICAGO, Jan. 18. — Invariably out-of-towners get used to stopping at a certain hotel and nothing short of funds or an ouster can keep them from registering at the same place whenever they hit Chicago. Neither family scandal nor domestic embarrassment are sufficient to set aside habits formed by the chronic metropolis visitor.

Particularly is this true of the men or women with money who travel much during the year. They become used to certain hotels and are loyal and clannish in a way that is best compared to an Irishman and his native Emerald Isle. Coffee served at a certain hotel can't be duplicated anywhere else, in their opinion. And Henri subconsciously impresses the addict that he is the one waiter in all Chicago who is willing to give more than value received. He is the one and only "prince of waiters" and he leaves that unctuous feeling of having been catered to in a way impossible in any other hostelry. This is the reason many waiters ride to and from work each day in a limousine.

I've known persons who stopped at the Drake who couldn't be persuaded to go to the Sherman hotel. And I know others who've made the Sherman for years who couldn't be persuaded to change to the Drake. Men who began coming to the Palmer House some years ago wouldn't trust their digestions to any other chef. Notwithstanding the quips about twentieth century restlessness and the mad, mad jazz age, nine out of ten seasoned travelers are victims of habit, and return year after year to comforts they're sure of.

And now the story's going the rounds about a certain woman who keeps a "Who's Who" calendar on folks who go to Reno. One discontented wife got her dope on the best time to get a divorce by culling over the calendar and noting when the most eligible millionaires would hit the western burg for their divorces. "Propinquity, etc." and "Get Him on the Rebound," as it were.

The youthful scion of a Lake Shore drive family packed his bears in coats, riding clothes, fur hats and other accessories of an Alaskan "dude ranch" outfit the other day, preparatory to hitting it for the northern trails. Others will probably follow post-haste for the far north "dude ranches" just now are the seal's whiskers. As they say in Alaska when they see the tenderfoots arriving: "There's gold in them thar spills."

Polka dot shoes with polka dot heels are the newest and most popular presents for women. And the correct thing to purchase to go with them, if you have the Beau Brummel instincts of the maharajah who bought 500 turbans to match the gowns in his harem, is a polka dot tie for yourself! And also diamond tie pins are set to match the diamonds in milady's heels. But if most of us went in for such things we'd be flit to be tied.

Herb Sees Reason For Attendance

New Bell On Lawrence School Is Cause, Member From Seventh Explains

It seems as though there is a reason for the high attendance average for Lawrence school in the month of December as compared with the other schools. It is the new bell that was recently installed in the school, according to Director J. Herbert McIlvenny.

For a long time the school was without a bell and the residents of that section insisted that there should be one. J. Herbert McIlvenny and A. C. Hyde are both residents of the Seventh ward and they finally got the board to put in a new bell. The results are plain according to J. Herbert.

Dr. Green had another solution. "It has been suggested" said he "that the folks down there don't take The News and therefore didn't read that there was an epidemic of flu. Hence they didn't think to contract it."

"Seems like they don't take the flu or The News," said A. C. Hyde as the matter was dropped. The attendance report was accepted by the board on Thursday evening.

Well Baby Clinic Is Cancelled By Harper

Medical Director Believes People Should Not Congregate In Groups

The weekly well baby clinic which meets every Thursday morning at the New Castle Dry Goods company's store has been called off until further notice in accordance with orders issued by Dr. H. C. Harper county medical director. No meeting of the clinic took place yesterday.

Dr. Harper disbanded the clinic temporarily because he does not believe that it is wise for people to congregate in groups when so much illness is prevalent. The next meeting of the clinic will be announced at a later date it is stated at the headquarters of the Lawrence County Tuberculosis society.

Youth Escapes As Train Hits Truck

SHARON, Pa., Jan. 18.—Douglas Peabody, aged 19, of Greenville, had a miraculous escape from death, when a truck in which he was traveling from Shenango to Greenville, was struck by a fast Pennsylvania passenger train yesterday. He was cut about the lower part of the face, and badly bruised, but aside from this, apparently escaped other injuries.

The truck was hurled about 20 feet in the air and carried down the track about 30 feet by the collision, witnesses stated.

Here's A New One! Too Much Profit!

School Cafeteria Shows Too Large A Margin Of Profit Board Opines

Students at the George Washington Junior High school will probably get a little larger portions of food in their cafeteria lunches in the future. The report to the school board on Thursday evening showed a profit of $524.29 which was much larger than the other schools operating cafeterias.

"These cafeterias are supposed to operate on a non-profit making basis" said Mrs. Nothdurft.

Dr. Green explained that the profit shown for the Washington school was not that of one month but for the time since the cafeteria had been operated and that it also included the inventory. Also he added the system is new up there and the teachers in charge were not yet to the place where the cafeteria was being run as it will later on.

Airplanes Carry Heavy Mail Loads

Chicago-Atlanta Line Carries 6,700 Pounds Of Mail And 100 Passengers

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—Sixty-seven hundred pounds of air mail and more than 100 passengers were carried over the Inter state Airlines, air mail and passenger route between Chicago and Atlanta during the month of December.

Departments of Commerce Airways superintendents are now surveying the route in preparation for the establishment of beacons at ten mile intervals with intermediate landing fields located at every third beacon. It is expected that the lighting of the route will be completed by May 1, and air mail service on a night schedule will then be inaugurated in addition to the daylight air mail and passenger service. No passengers will be carried on the night planes.

Flu Milder Than in 1918, But Vicks Sets New Record

Although the type of flu this year is not so serious as in 1918, health authorities are urging everybody to treat even the slightest cold at the start, as colds lower the resistance and make the body an easy prey to bronchitis or pneumonia.

An interesting response to this warning has been the phenomenal call for Vicks VapoRub, the external treatment which proved so helpful in the 1918 epidemic.

In spite of vastly increased capacity, the Vicks laboratories are once more operating all night long and are now producing 375,000 jars daily. A substantial part of this increase is attributed to the widespread use of Vicks as a preventive.

Longest Air Mail Route In World In This Country

Distance Of 2,680 Miles Is Covered By American Air Transport

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—In transcontinental air mail, the United States has the longest continuous and regularly operated air mail in the world.

The American Air Transport Association gives these facts about the cross-country flight—of air mail from the Statue of Liberty to the Golden Gate.

The distance is 2,680 miles.

Mail planes fly 2,750,000 miles a year, shuttling back and forth on it. The planes traverse eleven states and make thirteen stops, and often the mail is sufficient to warrant running planes in double sections just as trains are operated. Planes carry from one-half to a ton of mail and express.

The route passes over three mountain ranges: the Alleghenys, Rockies and Sierra Nevadas, and from sea level on two seaports to 14,000 feet in hurdling the Sierras.

There are more miles of lights and beacons on this 2,680 mile hop between New York and San Francisco than there are on all of Europe's airways.

Time required on the flight from New York to San Francisco Bay is 31½ elapsed time, or 27 1-4 actual flying time.

Many Study To Be Air Pilots

About 12,000 Enter Schools Each Year; Expect 20,000 This Year

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—Approximately 12,000 men entered air schools to learn to become pilots this year, reports the American Air Transport Association. One association's check indicated that approximately 20,000 will enroll at schools in 1929. To obtain license to become air transport pilots students must have 200 "air hours".

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

This new "nut" song which has been broadcast into a million homes, "I Faw Down, Go Boomp" is rapidly becoming an idiom. You hear it on the street and in the office, in the home and in the school, and about the next time anybody cracks through with it is going to be a signal for war.

But what I was going to say was that the song got a practical demonstration Thursday afternoon in the Franklin Junior High School gymnasium when the Girls Varsity team played a team composed of the young lady teachers.

Perhaps its isn't very clubby to mention the score, but truth will out and you might as well know that the students took the teachers like Grant took Richmond. The total was 16-6 but for every one of those six tallies the teachers got, you can average about seventeen "boomps" and a flock of them will be nicely black and blued today with a border or fringe of yellow and brown. However they probably won't be seen, but as I was saying, the students won.

Those dear dead days beyond recall when the young ladies, now teachers, were the stars for dear old Siwash and Westneva and other institutions where they were exposed to higher education, didn't mean a thing to the kids up at Franklin. How were they to know that the guard or the center used to loop them in four or five year ago?

Tnd furthermore what did they care? They were out to trim the teachers even if they did ruin a lot of marcels and tailor made complexion and customers they did it. Several years of school teaching leads to softening insofar as physical condition is concerned and if the truth were known some of the teachers used half a dozen pillows or more last night in an effort to woo sleep.

Those degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Science, meant no more to the Franklin lassies than the degrees on a navigator's sextant. And while they may be able to show the youngsters how to square a circle, or get the low down on a Latin verb, they can't compete with them in basketball.

My friend Smitty down at the Sycamore garage is a thrifty soul. His middle initial is A, which probably stands for Angus or some other good old Scotch name. He believes in economy in all things, and they do say that in his hymn singing he prefers the "Ninety and Nine" instead of "Old Hundred" because it's a bargain.

Smitty lets his customers heat his garage or partly so. Instead of burning all coal, he has fixed up a home made oil burning arrangement by which oil is fed from a tank through a thin copper pipe into the stove.

But don't get funny ideas, the oil isn't fuel oil that he buys. Not much. It's the oil that comes from crank cases when it gets changed. Instead of tossing it out in the alley where a traveler can do some St. Vitus dances as he slithers through it, he just fills up the tank with the refuse oil and saves the coal pile.

There is this to be said for him however. He doesn't attempt to ventilate the garage with the second hand air that comes from the tires.

The radio must have been all wrong last night. At dinner time the announcer from Pittsburgh said that it would be colder and advised motorists to put on their chains as the roads would be frozen. He should have broadcast that warning twenty four hours before he did.

Reverting for the moment to the opening paragraph concerning slang phrases which become popular. Can you remember the day when it was considered big time stuff to remark, "Whoa January." Or that other good old classic, "No siree bob horse and buggy." Or perhaps you remember "Skiddo, 23," or the more recent one "goodnight." Or that other one which probably caused many a nice messy murder, "I'll say so."

Wise cracks they call them now, with fellows like Bugs Baer, Tad, Will Rogers et al, getting important sugar for coining them. I still claim that Westbrook Pegler coined a classic when he brought out the word "palooka." Asked what a palooka was one afternoon Peg responded, "a palooka is a guy who is born with two strikes on him."

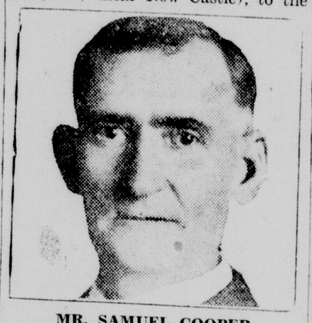
And to conclude with this program of slang phrases, or rather wise cracks, read Walter Winchell's "Your Broadway and Mine" which appears in The News every evening. Winchell is one of Broadway's best at the present time and while you may not understand some of his language, it is mighty good.

That's all today. Don't forget your rubbers.

Ended Stomach Misery; Toned Up His System

Engineer Vastly Benefited By Ten Herbs; Headaches Gone; Nerves Quieted.

"I can honestly recommend Ten Herbs to anyone suffering with stomach trouble or in need of a first-class tonic," was the recent statement of Mr. Samuel M. Cooper, Route 2, Volant, Pa., (near New Castle), to the



MR. SAMUEL COOPER

Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily demonstrating this famous new herbal medicine.

"My health had been poor for some time," continued Mr. Cooper, who is a stationary engineer. "I suffered a great deal with my stomach. I had indigestion, and food did not seem to do me much good. Gas made me bloat and caused me to retch after eating. I was very nervous, and my head would ache. At times dizziness came on me until I could hardly walk. There were pains in my back and loins, and I had to arise several times during the night, disturbing my rest, which I needed for my day's work.

"I read about Ten Herbs in the papers and made up my mind to try it. I am glad that I started using your medicine, for it relieved my stomach trouble. Gas no longer forms, and that bloated feeling has left me. My appetite has been restored, and I can eat a hearty meal without fear of distress afterwards. Nervousness has been relieved, and dizzingss has disappeared. Headaches have passed away, and I no longer have that tired-out, run-down feeling. I get a good night's rest, as my sleep is not broken by having to arise like I used to. I feel fit for work at all times."

Ten Herbs has been a blessing to a great number of men and women of this section by ending disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Its wonderful natural ingredients have a cleansing and beneficial effect on the whole system.

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine.

Three Laborers Are Killed By Train

Freight Train Plows Into Nine Workmen In Dense Fog; Three Seriously Hurt

(International News Service)

MIDDLETOWN, O., Jan. 18.—Plowing through nine men, members of a section crew, who were walking along the track, a B. & O. freight train killed two, fatally injured another and seriously hurt three others, at Poast Town, near here, Thursday.

Huiley Bell, who was in the lead of the crew, escaped with the loss of the heel from one shoe. He saw the headlight in time to jump.

Bell said the fog was so thick the rest of the men did not see the locomotive until they were hit.

Clarence Kechner, 26, of Camden, O., was instantly killed and one unidentified man. Zonie Haney, 26, of Fostoria, died in a hospital.

Three workers who were hurt but may recover, were Ollie Hounshell, Hagger Talby and Ralph Downing, all of Middletown.

Petroleum Industry In Past Fifteen Years Has Had Remarkable Growth

Robert G. Stewart, President Of Pan-American Petroleum, Makes Statement

"Over-Production", More Than Anything Else, Has Been Detriment To Progress

By W. S. Cousins.
I. N. S. Financial Editor.
(Copyright, 1929, by International News Service.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Revolutionary improvements in refining processes and a vast increase in consumption of petroleum products are the outstanding developments in the oil industry in the last 15 years, as seen by Robert G. Stewart, the president of the Pan American Petroleum & Transport company.

Though one of the younger generation of petroleum industry leaders Mr. Stewart has seen service in many of the world's leading producing and refining fields, as well as the home refining and distributing centres. Entering the employ of the Standard Oil company of Indiana at Minneapolis as a salesman, in 1913, he mastered the retail end of the business and was then sent to London as manager of the London branch of the Mexican Petroleum company. On his return to New York he was elected vice president of the Pan American company and advanced to the presidency in June, 1927. Robert G. Stewart is the son of Colonel Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil company of Indiana.

"Over-Production" Hurts.

"Over-production of crude oil and the intense world-wide competition which constantly seeks to depress prices of all oil products, are the greatest problems facing the oil industry today," Mr. Stewart declared in an exclusive interview with International News Service today. Despite this over-production, said the head of the Pan American company, the big oil concerns find it necessary to continue scouring the world for new sources of oil production, both to meet current demands and to uncover potentials for the vast increases in oil consumption that are recorded from year to year.

"If the oil industry had the same opportunities as the railroads and the public utility companies," said Stewart, "there would be a great deal better assurance of profitable operations of the country's producers of oil. Handicapped by federal anti-trust laws and state regulations of various kinds, the oil industry is perhaps the most competitive industry in this country, and at times the profits of important companies have been unmercifully cut by competitive encroachments upon their territory."

Profits Are Necessary.

No industry can exist without reasonable profits, said Mr. Stewart, who stressed the necessity of accumulating large surpluses for imperative expansion and refining facilities.

"Crude oil production in the United States today is running at the rate of about 2,500,000 barrels daily, in addition to which American oil companies control a 375,000-barrel daily production in Venezuela and the outputs of several European fields," said Mr. Stewart.

"Conversation programs within the industry and strict observance of the regulations of the various state commissions have restricted production of crude oil in the last year or two, at least within an appreciable distance of consumption requirements, but over production is still a big problem. There is a big potential production in Mexico, but the export taxes prohibit exportation of the oil on a competitive basis with California and Texas.

Great progress has been made in the the elimination of waste products of the refining industry. The oil industry is running neck and neck with the packers, whose boast it is that they utilize everything but the sequeal.

Cameron Closes Bank At Farrell

Bank Examiner Named To Take Over Affairs Of Mercer County Institution

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 18.—The people's bank of Farrell, Mercer county, was ordered closed today by Peter G. Cameron, secretary of banking. Frank W. Jackson, a bank examiner, was named as a special deputy to take over the affairs of the bank.

The order for the closing followed an examination by state examiners which began Wednesday. Heavy withdrawals by depositors began on that day and continued yesterday. The examiners reported finding considerable frozen assets and recommended that its affairs be taken over by the banking department until its real condition can be ascertained.

Cameron said today that he hopes it will be possible to reorganize and reopen the bank or to have the deposit liabilities assumed by some other banking institution in the vicinity.

The banks statements as of December 31, 1928, on file here, shows $50,000 capital stock, $17,000 surplus, and deposit liabilities aggregating $769,000.

Real "Wood Chopping Day" For New Bedford Grangers

That the New Bedford Grange has returned to the old-time spirit of helping others was convincingly proven just recently when a company of men met at the home of James Van Meter and spent the day in chopping wood. Several who had planned to attend this old-time frolic were unable to because of sickness.

Although a few were sick, Thomas Lloyd, William Wortman, Harold Neal, Mark Miller, Norman Hoye, Ben Miller and Joe Van Meter attended and proved their mettle during that day's work.

Ben Miller officiated as master of ceremonies and good cheer prevailed. The work proceeded merrily throughout the day and the job was a success to the finish.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jackson and Mrs. Thomas Lloyd kindly offered their services in cooking, which were gladly accepted by Mrs. Van Meter. A warm dinner was served to the men at noon.

Harold Neal's team of friskies stamped with impatience to return to the wood lot for load after load of logs until the back yard took on the aspect of a north woods lumber camp. Saws and axes were kept in motion and as the day advanced these logs were transformed into piles of stovewood which now somewhat resemble tents in an army camp.

The Van Meters are thankful for the fine spirit that prompted the act, and to all those who took part in the day's work. It is probable that the New Bedford Grange will grow in numbers throughout the year for its members' fine co-operative spirit that was so clearly manifested this week.

New Bridge Pier Not Damaged

Ice Gorge Goes Out Without Damaging Construction .. Work On Bridge

No damage was done to the pier of the new North street bridge located about he middle of the Neshannock creek in the passing of the big ice gorge in the creek this morning.

The contractor, John A. Byers, had taken necessary precautions in the new work and about the pier and had teh ice dug aut around the pier and other construction work so that no damage was done.

Just previous to the passing of the immense gorge of ice the water was clear over the top of the pier. Immense pieces of ice from 15 to 18 inches in thickness and many feet in extent crashed ito the pier repeatedly previous to and during the passing of the gorge but no damage of any kind has been found.

Late this afternoon the water in the creek was very high but had receded to such an extend from the high point that the pier was standing above the water about four feet.

A large crowd witnessed the passing of the gorge and many interested spectators were still at the scene this afternoon.

Ice Remains On Shenango River

While the ice in the Neshannock creek gave away with a thud sometime last night, that in the Shenango river above the West Washington street bridge today continued to remain. Below the bridge the ice had broken up and floated down the river.

Unlike the ice in the Neshannock stream, ice that did give way in the Shenango river some time ago did not jam the shores of the river. The ice over the Shenango apparently was not as thick as the crest that for some time concealed the Neshannock.

If the pravailing warm weather remains it will probably be but a matter of a few hours until the ice in the Shenango is gone.

Traction Building Valuation Is Cut

Lower Front Portion Of Building Is Not Exempt From Tax

Recently officials of the Pennsylvania Power company requested members of the board of revision (councilmen) to exempt the building which is occupied from taxation owing to it being devoted to use as a public utility. Council conducted an investigation.

Today councilmen were informed by Inspector Dysart and Assessor Cover that the front portion of the lower floor is occupied as a salesroom and would bring a probable rental of $400 a month.

A valuation of $37,000, had been placed on the building. All of the building excepting the lower front portion is devoted to public utility use and council followed the state law.

The valuation was cut from $37,000 to $13,000, following a resolution presented by Councilman Burns.

Under state law buildings occupied by public utilities are exempt.

Colonel Harry Fry Is Disinherited By Will Of His Father

Late Henry C. Fry, Rochester Manufacturer Leaves Valuable Estate

(International News Service)

BEAVER, Pa., Jan. 18.—The will of Henry Clay Fry, Rochester manufacturer, was on file here today in a codicil dated in 1925. Col. Harry C. Fry, Jr., of Pittsburgh is disinherited, and a grandson, George Kenneth Fry, a son of Col. Fry, is made the beneficiary.

No estimate of the value of the estate is given.

Mrs. Bell M. Fry, the widow, is left certain property in Point Chautauqua, N. Y., the Fry homestead in Rochester and a $10,000 life insurance policy. Miss Maggie Horst, a former housekeeper, is bequeathed $2,500.

The residue of the estate, which consists of valuable real estate in Point Chautauqua, N. Y., and Rochester, Pa., and stock in the Fry Glass company, the Fry Equipment corporation and the First National bank, Rochester, is equally divided among these children: J. Edward Fry, Gertrude Jenkinson, Clara B. Sage and Mabel M. Bonnell and a grandson, George Kenneth Fry.

Col. Harry C. Fry, Jr., is president of Logue Bros., insurance agents of Pittsburgh. He was for two years chairman of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce aeronautics committee. He holds the rank of colonel in the army reserve corps, material division.

Plainsman Pleads Square Deal For Indians In History

(International News Service)

LAWTON, Okla., Jan. 18.—Frank Bush, veteran plainsman, is convinced that "historians have not given the Indian a square deal." He is conducting a search for the widow of a Crown Indian named Curly, who he believes, can prove this fact.

Rush, superintendent of a game preserve near Lawton, believes that the Indians have been done an injustice by calling the battle of The Little Big Horn the "Custer Massacre", when a previous battle, in which Custer routed the Arapahoes, is referred to as the "great victory of the Washita."

Curly, whose widow Rush is seeking, escaped the "Custer Massacre" and reported it to General Philip Sheridan. She has documents, he believes, which will show in a different light warfare between white men and the Indians, and perhaps reveal how Custer died.

Mr. George H. Lant Tells How Cuticura Healed Pimples.

"My facial trouble started with hard pimples that festered. They were dark red in color and about the size of a pea. I squeezed them which only made them more unsightly. After washing my face they sometimes became irritated. The trouble lasted about nine months.

"I tried other remedies with no marked success. A friend advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment so I sent for a free sample. Good results were noted so I purchased more and in about two months I was completely healed." (Signed) George H. Lant, Box 45, Eagleville, Pa., July 10, 1928

Like life-giving rain after a long drouth; like sunshine after the storm, Konjola, the new medicine, is proving a boon and a blessing to scores of sufferers. Read, for instance, the statement of Mrs. Laura Emery, 1116 Croton avenue, New Castle:

"My stomach was always bothering me. I suffered intense pain after each meal. Food always formed a heavy lump in the pit of my stomach. This fermented and caused gas and bloating. My kidneys were disordered. Quite often attacks of biliousness came over me.

"But all is ended now. I owe it all to Konjola. The gas bloating, fermentation and pains are all ended. My kidneys are also much stronger. The spells of biliousness vanished some time ago and have never returned. Konjola also ended the dizzy attacks and headaches.

MRS. LAURA EMERY

Konjola has restored my health and now I am going to indorse it every chance I get."

Polish Fliers To Try Atlantic Hop Early This Year

Will Attempt To Capture World's Record Endurance Flight

(International News Service)

WARSAW, Jan. 18.—Poland plans to open the next trans-Atlantic flying season very early in 1929.

As soon as their four-motored hydroplane now under construction in the Caproni aircraft works near Milan, Italy, is finished, Colonel Adam Kovalczik and Colonel Wladimir Kisz Polish army pilots, intend to fly across the Atlantic in an east-west direction. They will first hop to Baldonell, Ireland, for this purpose, from where they plan to fly somewhere to the American continent.

Besides bettering the feat last year of Captain Koehl, who was forced down with his Junkers plane "Europa" on Greenly Island, the Polish fliers will attempt simultaneously to capture the world's endurance flight record now also held by Junkers. For this purpose Colonel Kovalczik will try to stay in the air as long as his fuel supply will permit, even after the American continent is reached.

The Caproni seaplane will be equipped with four motors developing a total of 1200 h. p. and will also carry complete radio sending and receiving apparatus. Its pontoons are to enable it to make a landing on the high seas in emergency cases. The plane, which is to be christened "Polonia", is to develop a maximum speed of about 140 miles an hour.

The cost of this Polish expedition, including the price for the plane, was raised by private subscription, largely from Polish residents of Chicago.

Segrave Will Try For New Records

Englishman Is Bringing Speed Boat And Automobile To Miami

(International News Service)

MIAMI, Jan. 18.—"Golden Arrow", 12-cylinder Napier engine, racing car, will be brought to Daytona Beach in February by Major H. O. D. Segrave, of London, in an effort to capture the world's speed crown for England, according to information received here.

Major Segrave also will bring to Biscayne Bay here a new fast motor boat to compete with Gar Wood's 93-mile-an-hour boat for world honors in this division of racing, it was said.

"Golden Arrow" is reported to be capable of developing 900 horsepower at 3,400 revolutions per minute, and Major Segrave believes his machine will be able to dart over the sands of Daytona Beach at a rate of 240 miles an hour, or four miles per minute. Wind tunnel tests have indicated the car can attain a speed of 246 miles an hour, it is understood.

The car is specially constructed cigar-shaped lines to encounter the lowest wind resistance possible, and the area of a head-on view is equivalent to only three feet by four feet.

Penn. Child Wouldn't Eat

"Everybody in the neighborhood was crazy about Walter. He was the happiest, brightest little thing you ever saw," says his mother, Mrs. Mary Nye, 231 South Ithan St., Philadelphia. "He looked so healthy we thought he'd never have any trouble. But he began to be constipated. It made him fretful, cross and feverish. His breath got to be terrible and his tongue was nearly always coated. He didn't want to do anything but lie around. He wouldn't eat and was losing weight fast.

"Then I began giving him California Fig Syrup. It brightened him up right away. He began to eat heartily and his stomach and bowels started acting perfectly. Soon he commenced gaining weight again and he's been perfectly well, strong and happy ever since."

California Fig Syrup is made from two of Nature's greatest laxatives—ripe California Figs and First Quality Senna Leaves. Children like its rich, fruity taste. It regulates their stomach and bowels and gives these organs tone and strength so they continue to act normally, of their own accord.

The genuine, endorsed by physicians for over 50 years, always bears the word "California." All drug stores have it.

Asks Higher Tariff On Imported Glass Shades And Globes

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 18.—The ways and means committee of the house of representatives was requested to place a higher tariff on imported glass lights, shades and globes when Thomas W. McCreary of Monaca, representing the Illuminating Glassware Guild, appeared before the committee during the tariff hearings this week.

Mr. McCreary urged compound increase of tariff on imported illuminating glassware which would amount to approximately an increase of 45 per cent of the present duty on such glass.

The illuminating glassware industry in this country is suffering severely from competition from Germany and Czechoslovakia, Mr. McCreary told the committee. He quoted various reports of the department of commerce to substantiate his contention.

The earnings of the average glassblower in Germany is only $1,432.61 per year as against an average wage of $43.69 per week for glassblowers employed in this country, he said. He expressed the belief that American glassware should be protected by tariff from glasware made abroad with such cheap labor.

Friends here have received word of the death of Mrs. Nancy Dunlap, widow of the late Bredine D. Dunlap of Pittsburgh, who passed away at her late home, 355 West Tenth street, Erie, Pa., on Tuesday at 11 a. m. following a brief illness of pneumonia. She leaves two daughters, Miss May Dunlap, at home, and Mrs. Odellia Gill of Erie; one grandson, Robert D. Cooper, of New Castle. Mrs. Dunlap was 74 years old and was the daughter of Samuel and Julia Reed of New Castle and was born and raised in New Castle. Funeral services were held in Pittsburgh Thursday afternoon. Interment in Pittsburgh cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Knox, who are spending the winter in California, write they have enjoyed a wonderful trip. In December they enjoyed an automobile trip from Los Angeles to Crescent City, a distance of eight hundred miles. Part of the way were mountains on one side and the Pacific Ocean on the other. The mountains were covered with snow and the red woods on one side made a beautiful scenery. Mr. and Mrs. Knox are at present guests of the latter's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Montgomery, who are located at Crescent City, Cal.

A meeting of the Pulaski Cemetery Association was held at Hotel Pulaski Thursday afternoon. A business meeting was held and the following officers elected: president, Frank Gearhart; vice president, E. L. Ayers, secretary, Charles Garrett; treasurer, James Black; trustees, Charles Clark, M. I. Buchanan; superintendents of cemetery, James Black and Charles Garrett.

Mrs. Mary Thickett of Beaver Falls and Mrs. Laura Bettes of Akron, O., have returned to their homes after being guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Muryl Boyd.

J. R. Meek spent Wednesday with his mother, Mrs. Emily Meek, of Cortland, O., who has been seriously ill.

The members of the advanced room of the Pulaski school enjoyed a sled ride to the home of their teacher, Miss Marjorie Gilliland, of New Wilmington, on Wednesday evening. About 25 were present and the boys and girls were chaperoned by Mrs. E. Funk and Miss Wilma Mitcheltree. The evening was delightfully spent in music and games and a delicious lunch was served by Miss Gilliland, assisted by her mother, Mrs. M. E. Gilliland, and sister, Miss Agnes Gilliland.

Mrs. Catherine Tomer, who has been confined to her home with illness, is improving.

Costs Over $900,000 To Operate Schools During Past Year

It cost $4.69 more to educate each child in the New Castle schools for the year of 1927-28 than it did in the school year of 1926-27, according to a report made to the school board on Thursday evening by the secretary, Hugh M. Marquis. The cost in 1927-28 was $84.27 per pupil upon an enrollment of 10,696, as against $79.38 per pupil in 1926-27.

The net cost of education in the year of 1927-28 was $901,352.32, according to Mr. Marquis' report, divided into accounts of general control, expense of instruction, auxiliary agencies, operation of school plant, maintenance of plant, fixed charges and debt service. This totaled $944,811.02, not counting the bonds which were redeemed, and out of this total comes $43,458.70 credit for tuition and rentals received.

Instruction Expense Big Item

The expense of instruction was quite naturally the largest item in the entire account, this totaling $636,083.93. This is divided as follows: supervisors' salaries, $8,399.97; other expenses for supervisors, $172.12; principals' salaries, $27,524.79; clerks' salaries, $6,883.80; principals' office supplies and expenses, $1,679.08; teachers' salaries, $550,240.37; text books, $18,162.31; school supplies, $21,934.87; other expense of instruction, $1,086.62.

The next largest account was the debt service, which totaled $118,007.27. This shows $111,250 payment of interest on bonds and $6,757.27 refund of taxes and tuition.

Other accounts include general control, $38,075.57, which includes the administrative expense, collection of taxes, etc. Auxiliary agencies, which include medical inspection, dental service and the like, $9,557.74. Operation of school plant, which includes janitors' salaries, fuel, water, light and power, supplies and other expenses, $91,296.75.

Maintenance of plant, which includes upkeep of grounds, repairs to buildings and furniture and other expenses, $29,033. Fixed charges, which includes retirement board contributions, rentals, insurance and contributions and contingencies, $22,806.73.

The increase in the cost per pupil is one that is shown as a slight increase in each account save for operation charges, which were exactly the same, a per pupil cost of $8.53.

The budget for the coming year will soon be prepared and preliminary estimates are being worked upon at the present time.

Henry Home Will Be Non-Taxable

School Board Would Place Home On Non-Assessable Tax List

In the opinion of the New Castle School Board, the Margaret Henry Home for Children should be placed on the non-assessable list as charitable property. The secretary, Hugh Marquis is directed to take the matter up with the City of New Castle and ask for the status of the Home at the present time and suggest to the council that the property be classed as non-assessable.

The matter came up when Charles C. Robingson, president of the Home asked that the school board exempt the Home from school taxes. This has been done before and in the opinion of Attorney Roy W. Hazen, a member of the board, the fact that it had been exempted once was sufficient proof that it should be exempted again. In order to avoid annual exemption proceedings, the board is therefore suggesting that the Home be classified as non-assessable and thus avoid the necessity of such action in the future.

Aged Woman Given Stiff Prison Term In Alleged Murder

(International News Service)

HONESDALE, Pa., Jan. 18.—Josephine Loring, 65-year-old woman of the backwoods, was sentenced to serve from 10 to 20 years in the Eastern penitentiary late Wednesday after she had pleaded guilty to second degree murder for killing Russell Butler, 36, on her farm in Wayne county several months ago.

A dispute over property which Butler had bought from the woman, who lived alone, resulted in her firing a charge from a shotgun into Butler without warning. Miss Loring has declined to talk about the case since her arrest.

Kiwanis Club Here Is Nine Years Old

Kiwanis International will be 14 years old next Monday, Jan. 21. The local club will be nine years old on the day after.

The first Kiwanis club was founded in the metropolis of Detroit way back in 1915, where a group of business men held the first club meeting. From one club the organization has grown until at present there are 1,767 clubs with a membership in excess of 102,000. Clubs are located in all parts of the United States and Canada.

While announcement is made here that no special program has been arranged for the 14th anniversary, nevertheless the club desires that some of the facts and figures of New Castle Kiwanis be presented.

In November, 1919, a group of local men gathered and founded the New Castle Kiwanis. The organization was chartered on January 22, 1920, the date of which comes but one day following the founding of the international organization. The club will be nine years old on that day.

The first president of the Kiwanis Club here was James K. Love and the first secretary George Long. In 1921 Alderman L. C. Mantz was elected secretary of the club and has retained that position ever since. The local membership now stands at 66.

"The basic reason for Kiwanis success," says the Kiwanis international president, O. S. Cummings, "lies in the emphasis which the organization places on the individual. A Kiwanis club is a laboratory in the field of human experience."

Activities of Kiwanis for the year of 1929 are outlined as follows: underprivileged child assistance, instruction in citizenship, development of business standards, urban-rural relations work, vocational guidance, placement for students and others. Under the leadership of Captain Charles B. Phillips, the president, the new year will undoubtedly be a most successful one. During 1928 H. L. Marvin, past president, served the club most capably and gave it his untiring service. Its activities in 1928 were many.

War Time Letters Written By Col. Leasure While In Service In Civil War

Wartime letters of a commander of men of necessity are far between, but there is a distinct gap in the correspondence of Col. Daniel Leasure of the Roundheads to the folks back in New Castle. The last letter from the colonel, presented in Wednesday's The News, was written on January 3, 1862, while the next included in the present file is dated April 28, 1862. What has become of letters which may have been written during the hiatus is not known.

However, a letter from George Leasure, the son of Daniel Leasure, written to his mother, is found in the files, dated January 5, 1862. In it he speaks of a rough sketch of the position held by the Union soldiers, but because the sketch is lost it cannot be reproduced.

"Port Royal Ferry,
"January 5, 1862.

"Dear Mother,

"This is Saturday, and who would have 'thunk' where the week has gone, but I suppose it is where all the others go. This has been a week of changes in the Second Brigade, and some others, not in the brigade.

"We left Beaufort Tuesday morning and came to our present quarters, then occupied by the 79th New York (Highlanders' where we stayed all night, waiting the arrival of the gunboats. On Wednesday morning (New Year's) about ten o'clock we heard the welcome sound of the shells. They shelled the woods all the way up on both sides of the Port Royal Island until they met at the ferry, but before they threw many shells, the rebels deserted the earthworks and the ferry and took to the woods. Our regiment of six companies was then thrown across the ferry and were the first to take possession of the fortifications. Companies K and D were reserved by the colonel to bridge the ferry so the rest could cross, but when we got down there we got hold of some of the old flats formerly used at the ferry and were saved the trouble of much work, as we had the boats in operation in a few minutes. Our flag was the first one planted on the fort.

"One of our companies (M) was thrown out as skirmishers and they were not out more than 15 minutes when they were fired upon by about 50 rebels from the rear of their hospital (probably a hospital guard), but hurt none of them. Two of the company took deliberate aim and killed two of the rebels, one a lieutenant. The way we know is that a flag of truce came in and the officer in charge of the two men was killed. They would not tell us how many were killed, but said we would not believe them if they would tell us. One thing I am confident of is the fact that there must have been at least 200 killed and wounded, and likely more. Our men have buried 25 or 30.

"There was a captain in the 12th Carolina regiment who was wounded in the bowels by a shell and was taken in charge by Dr. Luddington, our surgeon, and very carefully tended to and brought over to our present quarters, where, after lingering for two or three hours, he expired. He was buried in decency. He said that he never expected such treatment from the Yankees. If they only treat our prisoners as well as we treated him, we ought to be satisfied.

"There were two of the 8th Michigan wounded, including the major (flesh wounds), one killed and one taken prisoner. . . .

"GEORGE LEASURE."

"Beaufort, S. C.
"April 28, 1861.

"I have just returned from burying our dead. Only one more remains to be buried of those here that were slain in battle on the day before yesterday. I say our dead, although they were not of my command, but the 8th Michigan, in camp alongside us.

"On the day before the attack on Fort Pulaski, General Benham sent here for a regiment to go down there to assist, if need be, in the storming of that fort. At the time, the 79th were on picket and as General Stevens could not send them, he sent the 8th Michigan. At the same time he ordered me to take two days' cooked rations and move with my entire strength towards the ferry and await orders. The object in sending us out there was to have us with the 79th Highlanders to meet anything that might arise either here or on the main. Next day the fort fell and we were ordered back to camp. The Michigan 8th's were detained down at Pulaski and on day before yesterday the regiment was ordered to form an escort for a lieutenant of engineers to make a reconnoissance of some island near Fort Jackson and Saramia. About 200, a part of six companies, were sent to Wilmington island and after landing were met by the Georgie 13th, about 800 strong, and for two hours the unequal fight lasted, during which 11 men, including Lieutenant Bodger and Adjutant Pratt, were killed and 35 wounded. Nearly one-fourth of the whole number engaged.

"The 8th finally drove the enemy back some three-quarters of a mile, when night coming on stopped the pursuit. Quite a number of the enemy were killed and wounded. Our men brought off all their killed and wounded and last night they were brought here for burial. We buried the gallant fellows today. Such might have been our fate, but God ruled otherwise.

"The enemy are some 40 to 50,000 strong between Savannah and Pasolaligo, opposite our position here, and we have some 2,500 to meet them with if they should fancy attacking us, which we do not have much fear, though we quietly look out and keep ready for them. There are only some 15,000 of us all told, holding over 400 miles of sea coast. General Hunter and General Benham are with us here today looking over something or other, and a whisper is heard of expected reinforcements and a movement. When the movement does take place it will be sudden, for we are ready to move in five minutes' notice, either by land or by sea.

"On Monday I go out with the regiment on advance picket duty instead of the 8th Michigan regiment, whose turn it is. I go prepared to move from there at two hours' notice if ordered. In case we move we send all our sick and hospital attendants to the general hospital at Hilton Head and will see no more of them until the end of the war, for our movements must be rapid and far inland to carry us into the healthy uplands, for it is certain death to tarry close to the coast, short of the high pine barrens in the summer season. The general health of the regiment is good, although poor John Thompson for a long time my private secretary after R. C. Leslie went into Atra's office, must die tonight of the fever, poor fellow.

"My own health is tolerably good, although I am not strong. Long mental anxiety and constant watching to avoid a nest that was long ago determined by some good people in whose way stood has somewhat preyed upon my strength and spirits. This is all over now, but there is much relaxation of my system and some obscure trouble of my bowels that occasions me a little sensitiveness for fear it may prove malignant, but I console myself with the idea that it does not make any difference in war, so a man, and especially a commanding officer, is able to assume his duties at the proper time, whether he has any bonds or not. One thing is very certain,, he ought not to have any feeling of fear for either sickness or death, for both are so apt to fall in a man's way that he ought to be prepared to encounter either or both at all times.

"Saturday morning, April 19: I have just returned from the burial of Lieutenant Bodger, who died of his wounds yesterday. Four have died at Hilton Head and will be up for burial today. Quite a number more will die from their wounds.

"Evening: The 8th Michigan regiment has just returned and I have come in from escorting it to its quarters with my command. Alva Leslie has at last got his papers to go home on recruiting service and starts this evening for Hilton Head to take a steamer on Monday.

"DANIEL LEASURE."

Bids for a new motion picture machine for the George Washington school, were opened Thursday evening by the New Castle school board but no contract was authorized, the board referring the bids to Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent for investigation.

Blondes Wear Better Than Brunette Wives

Paris Divorce Figures Show That Married Men Stick With Brunettes

(International News Service)

PARIS, Jan. 18.—In married life, blondes wear better than brunettes, if one may believe the word of a French statistician. This gentlemtn, who usually spends his time figuring out how far things would reach if laid end to end, recently deviated into divorce records, and found an average of 77 brunettes for each hundred divorces.

But these figures lie, say defenders of the brunettes. It is true that blondes do not figure so prominently in divorce statistics, they concede, but that is because only 15 per cent of the world's women are the kind that gentlemen supposedly prefer.

So the man with a brunette wife or sweetheart need not worry.

Shingle Saves Life Of Falling Fireman

Top Of Boot Catches On Protruding Shingle As Man Slides From Roof

(International News Service)

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 18.—A little shingle probably saved the life of Al Lehnard, a member of the Evansville fire department. While Lehnard was fighting a fire he lost his balance and fell. He was sliding head first down the roof when the top of his boot caught on a protruding shingle, which held him with his head hung over the eaves.

Lehnard managed to stay in that position, thanks to the shingle, until brother firemen could run up a ladder and rescue him.

Miss Edna Sheaffer Wins Essay Award

Miss Edna Sheaffer recently announced as salutatorian for the January division of the Senior High school graduating class of 1929 has won additional honors for herself in that she has just been declared the winner of the prize offered by the New Castle chapter of the Daughters of 1812 for the best essay that a senior produces on a subject pertaining to the War of 1812. Miss Sheaffer's subject was "Winfield Scott and the Battle Line."

It is also announced that Miss Martha Muse daughter of Attorney and Mrs. George W. Muse of Fairmont avenue, has been selected as second winner. Her work was such that warranted honorable mention, although no prize is given for this honor.

The ten dollars in gold that the chapter awards for the finest essay turned out will be presented to Miss Sheaffer at the commencement exercises of the class on January 25. A representative of the chapter will likely make the presentation.

It was just recently announced through The News that Miss Sheaffer had been selected as salutatorian for her class as a result of the excellent scholarship record that she has attained during her four years in high school. Aside from winning this coveted honor for herself she has distinguished herself in numerous other ways. Dramatics, secretary of the graduating class, memberships in the Senatus Romanus and Student Representatives' body were but a few of the other honors her fellow students and teachers have conferred upon her because of her general scholarship ability and the pleasing personality that she posseses.

Miss Sheaffer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E .R. Sheaffer of 721 Court street. It is planned to publish her essay, through which she has won further honors in the columns of The News shortly.

The Daughters of 1812 here present this prize for the best essay at the January graduation while the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution make a like award for the best essay that a June graduate writes on a subject having to do with Revolutionary war.

New Washer For Franklin High

After some six and a half years of continuous service in the Franklin junior high school Domestic Arts department, the electric washer used there has been retired and a new one ordered. The school board on Thursday evening authorized the purchase of a washer at a price of $125.

Since it was first put into service the washer now in use at the Franklin school has been in service some five days per week for about 180 days per year, which would mean many years of service in a home.

Will Make Change At Franklin High

Health Instruction Work To Be Done By Special Teacher In Future

Health instruction in the Franklin school will be on a more efficient basis, according to Superintendent C. C. Green, following the report of Dr. Mary J. Baker, director of health to the board on Thursday evening.

In her report Dr. Baker said that no teacher was especially charged with the teaching of health and as a result about 24 were teaching it with indifferent results.

"It is an important subject" said J. Herbert McIlvenny, "and I think should be taken care of."

Dr. Green said that he had already taken the matter up with the principal, Frank L. Burton, and that one or two teachers would be assigned to teach the subject instead of twenty-four doing a little of it.

Florida Licenses Are Not Good In Keystone State

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 18.—Residents of Pennsylvania cannot operate their cars in this state with tags bought in Florida, the department of highways warned today.

Officials said that in some cases residents of Pennsylvania visiting Florida are being urged to buy automobile licenses there because of the cheaper rate. When they return to Pennsylvania they fail to buy a license here.

A special order has been issued to the motor patrol to watch for offenders.

Miss Martha Muse Wins Gold Award

Is Given B. And P. W. Club English Award For Excellence At High School

Miss Martha Muse, daughter of Attorney and Mrs. George W. Muse of Fairmont avenue, will be recipient of the ten dollars in gold that the Business and Professional Women's club of New Castle offers for the senior attaining the highest general excellency in English during their four years in high school at this commencement time.

The prize that Miss Muse will receive at commencement time this year is the second of its kind that the organization has offered.

It is stated that a committee consisting of the English teachers of the high school makes the decision as to the winner. Miss Frances McClaren as head of the English department, acts as chairman of this group.

Miss Muse's record in English as well as in other subjects has been fine. Her scholastic ability especially in English, has now been recognized since the committee made the decision selecting her.

Board Authorizes Bonuses For Work Of Athletic Aides

Approving the action of the athletic council, the New Castle school board on Thursday evening sanctioned the action of the council in authorizing bonuses of $250 each to Faculty Manager Ralph Gardner, and Assistant Coaches Thomas and Klee of the New Castle senior high school.

The council felt, and the board also that the men had done splendid work in the promotion of athletics at the senior high school, and in the case of Thomas and Klee they are paid nothing extra for their work of aiding in the coaching of the football and basketball teams.

Inasmuch as the janitors are paid extra for their work in policing the field and the teachers who act as ticket sellers and ticket takers are paid extra, it was felt that the men above were also entitled to extra compensation. The bonuses will be paid out of the athletic funds.

Senate To Miss Jim Reed's Fire

End Of Famous Missouri Senator Comes At Close Of Present Session

CARAWAY IS SEEN AS HIS SUCCESSOR

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Washington Correspondent for Central Press and The New Castle News

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—It will be a good deal like turning off the electricity when Jim Reed of Missouri retires from the United States Senate at the end of this session of Congress.

Everybody on Capital Hill says so.

An extra session is to follow close on the heels of the present regular one.

But no Jim Reed will sit in the front row, second desk from the aisle, on the Democratic side, in the Senate chamber.

Alas!—not a dissenting voice is raised—it won't be the same Senate without him.

Yet it's the generally accepted theory that nobody is absolutely indispsnsable—that somebody always is ready to step into any just-vacated void, no matter how seemingly non-refillable, and occupy it adequately.

Jim Reed's retirement will create a vacuum in the post of scintillator-in-chief for the Senate minority.

My personal candidate for Jim's place is Senator Thaddeus H. Caraway of Arkansas.

For a short spurt, Thad Caraway undoubtedly is the champion scintillator in national politics.

He is not Jim Reed's equal in the marathon.

That is to say, Jim can get up and make a speech lasting hours that darts forked lightning all the time 'till your eyes hurt.

Thad is better in debate—not so uninterrupted as Jim, in his performances—short, sharp and terrible, rather—but with intervals in between—like a death chair that sets its victim kicking time after time, as the executioner repeats the dose, to make sure of him beyond peradventure.

There are other senators who can say strong things.

Senator Borah can. So can both Senator Walshes. Likewise Hi Johnson and young Bob LaFollette, and, most emphatically "Uncle George" Norris.

But they all lack Thad Caraway's pungency.

On Thad's own political side Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi has more of Jim's capacity for a prolonged effort, but his effect is nothing like as devastating as Jim's, or Thad Caraway's. Shot for shot, I doubt if even Jim has Thad's power of penetration, though he beats Thad in point of quantity.

* * *

It should not be assumed, however, that Senator Caraway is deficient in ability to continue in action as long as circumstances require.

At his own particular game he's tireless.

In this respect he differs from Senator George H. Moses of the G. O. P. faction. Moses can say as murderous things as any man in the Capitol building but not often. It takes him a long time to think them up, apparently. Thad utters them as naturally as he breathes and about as rapidly, when he feels like it.

Thad's also are a higher type than Moses'. The latter gets personal. Thad's thunderbolts always strike above the diaphragm.

The Senate will miss Jim Reed terribly.

Still, complete ennui never will settle upon the solon's chamber while Thad Caraway remains to enliven its proceedings.

Government Sued For Broadcasting Voices

French Opera Singers Charge Broadcasting With Their Consent

(International News Service)

PARIS, Jan. 18.—Charging that the government broadcasted their voices without their consent Jules Franz, tenor, and Mlle. Lise Charny, both of the Paris Opera, have brought suit for $400.

Franz received a newspaper clipping from Lyons telling how local radio fans enjoyed his solo from "Le Cid" and Mlle. Charny's interpretation of "Sigurd," on September 30.

"An imposter!" exclaimed Franz, and he hastened to make inquiries. The ministry of post, telephones and telegraph had announced the singers and then played phonograph records into the microphone.

"Crashers" Worry Des Moines Society

Young Lotharios In Dinner Coats Make Way Into Exclusive Gatherings

(International News Service)

DES MOINES, Jan. 18.—"Gate crashers" are worrying Des Moines social elect.

Gay young Lotharios in tuxedoes and their sophisticated girl friends in evening dress have been making their way uninvited into some of the city's ultra-exclusive functions.

House managers at the clubs admit they are at a loss as to how to bar the young would-be social climbers.

The intruders employ all sorts of ruses. One of their favorite ones is to leave their wraps outside in automobiles and "crash during intermission periods."

Illness Cause Of Attendance Drop

Epidemic Hits Average Attendance In Schools For December

Colds, grip and influenza played havoc with the school attendance in December, according to the figures submitted by Superintendent C. C. Green Thursday evening when the New Castle school board met in the East street administration building. For the first time in years the attendance dropped to 83 per cent, an amazingly low percentage, and a decrease of 12 per cent from November

Even Terrace avenue, a 99 per cent school almost invariably, dropped to 91 per cent, while North street and Oak street dropped to 77 per cent. Highland and Thaddeus Stevens reported 80 per cent, senior high school 79 per cent and others ranged from 80 to 93. For some reason the Lawrence school seemed to be less affected than the other schools. November showed 95 per cent while December showed only a loss of two per cent, their average being 93.

The enrollment for December showed a total of 10,952, with an average attendance of 9,065, as against an average total for November of 10,404.

In addition to absences caused by illness, the attendance officer, Mrs. W. J. Biersmith, had 401 cases reported to her, and discovered eight cases herself. All of the cases were investigated and 33 notices served on parents. Three employment certificates were issued.

Ellwood High To Clash With Fast Zelienople Team

Girls Team Will Meet Zelienople Lassies In The Preliminary Game

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 18.—The section 3 W. P. I. A. L. schedule for tonight takes the Ellwood High basketball team to Zelienople, where they will clash with a strong quintet coached by Tod Lloyd, former Ellwood City High and Geneva star.

At present Ellwood is in fourth place in the section standing, one-half a game ahead of Zelienople. A win for Ellwood tonight may advance the local five to third place, or even to a tie for second place, depending on how Beaver Falls and New Brighton fare at the hands of Butler and Mars.

The local team's sensational victory over Beaver Falls should be sufficient to inspire them with confidence when they invade the Zelienople territory this evening.

The preliminary game will be staged between the Ellwood maidens and the Zelienople sextet. Although the girls' team cannot boast many victories this year, they stand a fair chance of triumphing this evening over the Zelienople lassies.

Unworked Problem Evangelist's Theme

Evangelist Walker Continues To Pack Church With Eloquent Revival Sermons

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 18.—At the evangelistic service Thursday evening in the First Christian church, Rev. Graham Walker chose as his subject "An Unworked Problem" and proceeded to solve it in his own inimitable manner, stating that "What shall it profit a man if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul." In his discourse, the evangelist claimed that multitudes of people were selling the soul for money, fame, honor or pleasure, and that one soul was of greater value in the sight of God than the whole world.

Ted Jones, the campaign singer, contributed a lovely solo last night entitled "The Last Mile of the Way". Tonight the evangelist will speak on "The Ark, a Type of the Church," and illustrate his remarks by means of a large chart. At the close of the sermon there will be a baptismal service.

Sunday evening will see the closing service of one of the most successful campaigns ever put on in Ellwood City.

No Deaths Reported This Morning For First In Month

Two Youths Are Victims Of Fire At Philadelphia

Bodies Of Two Youths Found In Ruins Following Big Blaze

HAD "CLUBROOMS" IN DAIRY PLANT

Origin Of Fire That Sweeps Dairy Plant Is Unknown; Charred Bodies Recovered

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 18.—Two boys were burned to death early today in a fire which destroyed their "club rooms" in the two story brick Scott-Powell company dairy plant in West Philadelphia.

The victims, Martin P. Lawless, 15, and J. McCormack, 14, of Leiperville, apparently were asleep in the building.

Their bodies were uncovered by firemen as they explored the charred ruins. No one was aware that any persons had been in the structure when the fire broke out.

"Club Rooms" Unknown

The "club rooms" had been built in a deep alcove in one corner of the building and dairy officials did not know it was used by the boys of the neighborhood.

Lawless lived in West Philadelphia while McCormack was known as "Leiperville" among his playmates. His father works in the Baldwin Locomotive plant at Eddystone near the section of Chester known as Leiperville.

How the blaze started had not been determined early today but it was thought matches carelessly tossed away by the youths might have been responsible for the tragedy.

More than a dozen milk wagon drivers in the building fought the fire until firemen could reach the scene. The firemen battled the flames more than two hours before they could be brought under control.

Man Injured In Auto Accident Fails To Recover

In the case in Lawrence county court of Frank F. Hyde against Harry and Theodore Lach, for $1000 damages for injuries sustained in an automobile accident, the jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant, which means that Hyde will not get anything. The case was tried before Judge Chambers. Hyde was walking across Mill street on the green light, at the intersection of Washington street it is claimed. Theodore Lach, who was making a turn from Washington street, also had the green light. It was claimed that the automobile was being driven at a high rate of speed, but the verdict indicates that the jury was not convinced that it was Lach's fault.

Health Report For City Schools

Dr. Baker Recommends Change In Hygiene Teaching At Ben Franklin

FLU EPIDEMIC IS DISCUSSED

In her report for the month of December, Dr. Mary J. Baker, director of health for the New Castle schools, recommended a centralization of the teaching of hygiene in the Benjamin Franklin junior high school, and also comments upon the general condition of the various schools. Her report follows, and in addition, the reports of the school nurses, school dentist and school hygienists. The reports follow:

The health conditions for the schools for the month of December were remarkably different from our previous months due to the epidemic of influenza. The epidemic seemed to reach its highest level about the middle of the month when one-third of our school children were absent due to illness.

During the period of epidemic all of our health teachers were instructed to keep a very careful watch on all the children every day and any child who showed suspicious symptoms of the disease was to be sent home. As well as this, the health teachers carried on daily classes in health instruction with particular attention being given to the prevention of colds and to the precautions that should be taken to prevent the spread of respiratory infection, and handkerchief drills. I really feel that the work of the health teachers during this time deserves special commendation. The nurses gave their entire time to the influenza epidemic and reached as many schools as possible every day, giving advice, inspecting children and excluding children whenever necessary.

The general sanitary conditions of the schools have been good. Some of the schools which were not in the best condition in the previous months have showed much improvement for which we are very thankful.

Dr. J. A. Kane of the Gorgas Memorial Institute of Washington, D. C., was in the city for two days and gave a very interesting and instructive talk to our senior high school students and to the West Side Parent-Teacher association.

I would like to call your attention at this time to a situation in the Benjamin Franklin junior high school. The subject of hygiene is taught one hour a week to all classes in this school. There are about 24 classes at this time and in this school there are some 20 teachers teaching the subject. The teachers for the most part do not like the subject and are not prepared to teach it. It seems to me it is a situation that is appalling and demands a remedy before another year. One or two teachers who have been trained for the subject and who like to teach the subject would relieve the condition and give to the pupils in this school a valuable course. It is in this school that many of our children finish their school course and if they do not learn the important principles of health and hygiene during their seventh, eighth and ninth years in school they will probably never learn them. It is surely of the utmost importance that they should be taught health while in the public schools. Will you please give your attention to this matter and help to solve the situation, if possible?

I might say that in the George Washington junior high school the subject is taught by one teacher and the course is interesting and of untold value to the child.

Below you will find the statistical reports for the various departments for the month of December, 1928.

The Way OF THE World

NOT BAD FOR CHURCHES

Don't worry, sneer, or rejoice too much about the stories you hear that churches in this day are not doing well. Church membership in this country has increased 130 per cent since 1891, while population has increased 80 per cent. In 1850 one person in six belonged to a church; today it is one person in three. Despite the 25,000,000 motor cars in the United States, 18,000,000 telephone, and 7,000,000 radios, people still have time to join a church, and many of them even go to church. Some, indeed, pay their dues.

NOT SO GOOD AS TO MURDER

While we are fooling along with figures let's admit that some other things have grown besides church membership. The murder rate per 1,000 people is twice as great today as it was in 1900. In burglary, highway robbery, and other crimes we lead the civilized world.

The uncivilized world has little crime, so there are no available statistics.

THE PRICE OF BEING BAD

The cost of maintaining prisons and similar institutions is about one-sixth of the revenue of all the states. That's one reason we pay taxes. And they are high, too. In two eastern states the cost of maintaining such institutions takes one-third of the revenue. It is said the eleven billion dollars advanced to European nations during and after the World war is no more than the United States pays out every year in the war on crime.

LIVING TODAY

Emerson believed in living in the present—not in the past or future. He writes: "Man is timid and apologetic; he is no longer upright; he dares not say 'I think,' 'I am,' but quotes some saint or sage. He is ashamed before the blade of grass or the blowing rose. These roses under my window make no reference to former roses or to better ones; they are for what they are; they exist with God today. There is no time to them. There is simply the rose; it is perfect in every moment of its existence."

WHAT IS IT ALL ABOUT?

You ask: what is it all about? Take this quotation as a final word from today's column. The writer does not know to whom to give credit:

"We come from a world where we have known incredible standards of excellence. And we dimly remember beauties which we have not seized again. And we go each to that world."

Akron Pays Best Wages To Workers

Leads All Major Cities In Country In Wages Paid To Workers

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Jan. 18.—Akron, O., pays the highest wages to industrial workers of any of the major cities in the county, according to John A. Zangerle, Cuyahoga county auditor.

Zangerle made a list of the per capita earnings of the cities by taking the amount paid in wages in manufacturing industries in each city, in 1928, and dividing this amount by the population of the city.

The per capita earning for Akron, on this basis, was $374. Other cities were: Detroit $241, Rochester $231, Cleveland $215, Milwaukee $206, Toledo $200, and Newark, N. J., $198.

Washington, D. C., which has comparatively little industry, was the lowest in the scale, its per capita amounting to only $30. New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Baltimore were all below $200.

Akron also led in the yearly industrial wages, by cities, as shown in Zangerle's list, are: Omaha $1,601, Detroit $1,313, Toledo $1,291, Buffalo $1,261, Cleveland $1,169 and Chicago $1,148.

"Don't COUGH Your Energy Away"

Stop hacking Coughs that wrack your whole system

DOCTORS advise coughs should be checked quickly. They sap vitality—put a terrific strain upon the vital organs. A cough can wrack your whole body—tear at the delicate tissues of the throat—leave the muscles of your chest and stomach sore from sheer exertion. Your health demands that coughs be checked, before exhaustion or serious infection sets in.

At the first sign of a cough or throat irritation, take PERTUSSIN. It helps Nature free the air passages of germ-laden mucus, soothes the irritation and quiets the cough. PERTUSSIN has been prescribed more often for coughs than any other advertised remedy.

PERTUSSIN is safe even for small children and convalescents—a good remedy for "coughs that hang on". It is free from dope—does not upset the stomach and can be taken as often as necessary.

School Directors To Meet At Mercer

Expect Almost 250 To Attend; Other News Of Adjoining County

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Jan. 18.—With 200 school directors attending the convention last year, it is expected that even more than this number will be in attendance when the 1929 session of the school directors convention opens here January 22.

Possibly 246 directors may attend the convention. The orchestra of the Fredonia Vocational school will furnish music.

Two thousand seven hundred dog licenses have been written in Mercer county for the year 1929. Issued at a rate of 350 a day, this establishes a record of the county treasurer.

Members of the Mercer County Agricultural Extension association will hold their annual meeting in the West Salem hall on February 20. There will be two sessions, morning and afternoon.

A process, whereby their charters will be merged, will be the action taken by attorneys when the two Presbyterian congregations unite, it is stated today. The charter of the First Presbyterian church is dated 1833, and that of the Central Presbyterian 1861. The most radical change will be the name of the church, after the union to be known as the Presbyterian church of Mercer.

Potatoes, wool, eggs, butter, milk, and poultry—all have been shipped from Mercer county to Harrisburg for display next week at the annual state farm products show. The exhibition from Mercer county will be in charge of County Agent W. S. Hager.

The Pomona grange of Mercer county will meet February 7 in the West Salem grange hall.

The "beauty diet" that made her ugly

SHE was one girl who was going to stay attractive—so she watched her "beauty diet." But, all the time, she was missing something every diet should have. In the dishes she so carefully selected there was scarcely any roughage. Constipation gained a foothold. Soon, her charm, her strength — the very youth she thought to protect — were paying the price!

Thousands of women and men are paying the price of soft, fibreless meals. Many are dieting—and yet they defeat their own purposes because constipation continues to poison the system. No other evil is more widespread. It may start with aching heads and blemished cheeks. It often ends with serious trouble and disease.

And more's the pity when it can be so easily prevented by means of a simple cereal. So quickly relieved. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to bring sure relief . . . safe prevention!

ALL-BRAN is 100% effective

ALL-BRAN is practically all roughage, or bulk. This bulk carries moisture throughout the digestive tract. Gently distending the intestines, sweeping out poisonous wastes. Part-bran products seldom contain enough bulk to be completely effective. Doctors recommend ALL-BRAN. It is 100% bran. It accomplishes results part-bran products cannot hope to equal.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is infinitely better than habit-forming pills and laxatives. A naturally healthful cereal! To enjoy with milk or cream. Delicious with fruits or honey added.

Use it in cooking too. Recipes on package. Mix it with hot cereals. Sprinkle it into soups. Just eat two tablespoonfuls in some form daily — chronic cases, with every meal. Its regular use will protect your family from the dangers of constipation.

Insist on genuine Kellogg's, the original ALL-BRAN. Sold by all grocers. Served at hotels, restaurants, cafeterias. On diners. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Guaranteed! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Eat it according to directions. If it does not relieve constipation safely, we will refund the purchase price.

The World's Redeemer

"Brass Tacks" on the Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

"Jesus" means "the saving one," and this name was given our Lord because, as the angel announced to the Virgin Mary before his birth, "he shall save his people from their sins." When this promise was fulfilled the angels announced to the Shepherds the birth of Christ as "good tidings of great joy, for unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour which is Christ the Lord."

There is no doubt, therefore, that our Lord's chief mission to this world and his object in taking our form and flesh was to be the Saviour of the world. "The Son of Man is come to seek and to save that which was lost." . . . "The Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many." True, he is the world's supreme teacher and its final revelation of the nature and will of God; likewise, he is God's pattern and example of a holy life for the emulation and inspiration of those who will copy his life, yet, none of these is big enough to explain his coming except that of Saviour and Redeemer: "Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners."

Love the Sole Motive

The explanation of his willingness thus to give his life a ransom for many is found solely in his love and not in any merit or worthiness in mankind. He took the initiative; he made the advances; "we love him because he first loved us." "God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us." Jesus has expressed this motive for the world's redemption in words so fully and faithfully epitomize his motive and mission that they have been called "the little gospel," viz. "God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish but have everlasting life." Infinite love, then, was the motive that brought him down to the manger, and this love, not nails, held him to the cross. There is no motive so strong as love, and we should make love, not fear, our supreme motive in religion, and say, "The love of Christ constraineth us."

Faith the Sole Requirement

How may we know that this redeeming love avails for us? How may we, sinful as we all are, avail ourselves of the redemption Christ has wrought out for us and now offers to us. He answers, "Whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life." Repeatedly and emphatically he makes faith in him the sole requirement for salvation. "Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ: by whom also we have access by faith unto this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God." Could God have made the terms any easier or more inclusive? Our sins were laid upon him as though they were his, and he bore them to the cross and made full atonement for them. Now his righteousness is laid upon us for his sake through faith. "By grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves, it is the gift of God."

"Nothing in my hand I bring,
Simply to Thy Cross I cling;
Foul, I to the fountain fly;
Wash me, Saviour, or I die."

Fisher's Budget Eagerly Awaited By State Solons

Further Progress By State Legislators Will Come After Budget Is Presented

GOVERNOR HOLDS IMPORTANT CLUB

Fisher Hopes To Make Legislative Expenditures Keep Step With Revenue Estimates

By WILLIAM B. BROWN,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Jan. 18.—With most of the preliminary problems now behind them, members of the general assembly when they convene here next week will still face one important factor to further progress—the governor's budget. Until it has been presented most of the appropriation plans and everything that goes with them have to be held in abeyance.

In the first session there were but few attempts to disregard the recommendations made in the budget. Submission of the budget does not come until after weeks of careful study by Arthur P. Townsend, the budget secretary, and the governor. Since early last month they have been wrestling with requests in which millions are urged glibly. Their problem has been to synchronize those demands with the revenues in sight.

The governor is expected to stand firmly by the recommendations he makes in the budget and is expected to use all the pressure he can command to make legislative expenditures keep step with the revenue estimates.

Fisher Holds Club

Regardless of what his recommendations are for each of the five interests which suffered defeat of the amendments they were backing, a demand for more money is expected. So far as highway construction goes the governor holds the club.

If the good roads forces urge addition of more mileage than revenues can pay for, the governor can say—"That is fine. I favor more good roads. But you must pass legislation to further burden the motorists." The folks "back home" want plenty of roads but no more taxes on that point it will be difficult for the legislature to avoid the issue.

Taking care of the forest expansion and welfare building interests is more difficult. Whatever they receive must come directly from the general funds. Without additional specific taxation. Both are expected to express disappointment at the amount which the governor allots.

Money for more armories and buildings at State College will be less difficult to find. Their original expectations were confined to only $5,000,000 and $8,000,000 respectively. The governor has promised both "adequate appropriations".

Allotment of appropriations to state and state aided institutions also usually is the cause of considerable log rolling. If a hospital expects a $50,000 appropriation, the representative from that district puts in a bill for $100,000 or more. In the end the hospital gets $40,000 or $50,000. Meanwhile the officials there were busy planning a new addition.

The governor and townsend are compelled to balance the digits. Adding machines have no special rows for dreams or promises.

C. H. Durant Is Accorded Honor

Former New Castle Man Is Honored By B. & O. Men In Pittsburgh

Word has just been received here of the fitting recognition that was paid to C. H. Durant, chief clerk to the superintendent of the Pittsburgh division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and a former resident of this city, by the Veteran Employes' Association of the division at the Hazelwood Odd Fellows hall, Pittsburgh, a few nights ago.

Besides being elected as treasurer of the organization for 1929, Mr. Durant was further honored in that he was presented with a watch, chain and penknife and Masonic charm for his service to the association in past years. Mrs. Durant was also presented with a beautiful mesh bag. Joining in with the presentations were the division associations of Wheeling, Crafton, Fairmont, Connellsville and McMechin. J. M. A lunch and entertainment followed the presentations, and Lois Durant Thompson, Mr. Durant's daughter, participated in the latter. Over 500 were present to that evening and witnessed the presentations to the Durants.

No appointments have yet been made to fill the vacancies created by the resignation of William F. Grimes and Forrest D. Stout, bank examiners in this sub-district, states Joel S. Mckee, president of the local clearing house association and cashier of the First National Bank of Lawrence County.

Appointments to fill the vacancies created by Mr. Grimes and Mr. Stout are expected to be emade in the very near future, says Mr. McKee.

Rev. Sweeten Speaks On The Soul At Primitive Church

Able Message On The Soul Of Man Is Given At Service Thursday Evening

A heart-searching message was delivered Thursday evening in the Primitive Methodist church by Evangelist Howard Sweeten on the subject, "The Soul".

The minister took his text from Genesis 2:7, "And the Lord God framed man of the dust of the ground and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life and man became a living soul."

"This is the only reliable statement relative to the origin of man," said the evangelist. "Some people would rather think man developed from some lower creature by the process of evolution, but God says in His word that he formed man and gave him a living soul. Everyone has a soul.

"The greatest problems of this day are not financial, pleasures or educational, but the soul problems. We can know the value of the soul by the price God is willing to pay for human souls. The giving of his only begotten Son to die that he might purchase our redemption is the price God has paid. Yet men today sell their souls for a little pleasure or some unvaluable things.

"The soul can be saved by the blood of Jesus." The meeting will continue this evening. No meeting on Saturday evening.

HOMER KING FAILS AS HOME MAKER

The greatest home run hitter of all time, Babe Ruth, has proved a rank busher as a home maker. Below, left, Mrs. Ruth with the child Dorothy, for whose possession Ruth may have to battle with Mrs. Ruth's kin. PORTRAITS - - - - - - - - By Laird

"Rich man, poor man, beggar man, thief; doctor, lawyer, merchant, chief." Not a rogues' gallery, but all sufferers from Cupid's sharp darts when they came within her sphere. All these craved the privilege of placing the ring of conquest on her finger. Where are they now, she wonders, these men who were once so devoted? Do they still remember her and long for her, or are their hearts quite whole again or lost to another? Would she have been happy if she had wed this one, that one? Will she meet the Real Prince, or will she keep adding to her gallery until they come less and less often to pay court, and she ceases to attract—if that time ever comes.

A pricking of her heart as she gazes on this face and on that. Maybe she has been mistaken in letting them all pass by. Who knows? Not Cupid. He only shoots, and when one dart fails he shoots again. The consequences are nothing to that gay desperado.

CHILD-WIFE, BLIND PASTOR PARTED

A strange contract rivaling the child marriages in India has been annulled at Herrin, Ill. Little Sarilda Clendennin, 11-year-old wife of the Rev. Joseph Milton Benton, 54-year-old blind preacher, has been freed from her husband by court order as the result of a social worker's diligence. The little girl was given in marriage to the preacher by her parents so that she might be "sanctified forever" and guide him in his earthly trials. Search revealed that the child was 11 years of age, not 16, as her father had sworn. Above, the bride, her mother and the Rev. Benton.

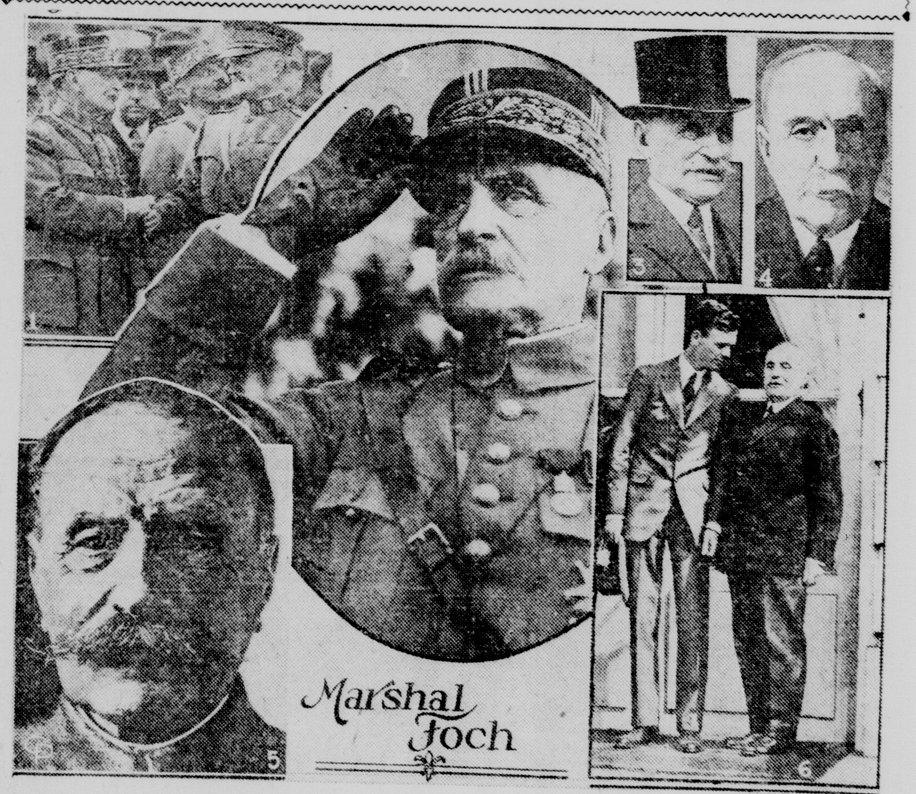
STANDARD BOARD BACKS STEWART

Led by Edward G. Seubert, president of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, the eight other members of the board of directors have announced they will support Col. Robert W. Stewart, their chairman, in his battle with John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who demanded Stewart's resignation last May. In a signed statement they have declared they were convinced of "his honesty and loyalty" and believed his retirement would be detrimental to the company. Above, left, Rockefeller; upper right, Seubert, and, below, Col. Stewart.

Tiny Bandit Victim

Even if Betty Hoyt Hamilton, of Kansas City, Mo., is only four years old, she knows how to treat a robber. When a man snatched her purse containing 20 pennies, as she sat in her aunt's automobile, she screamed and fought him. However, when her aunt returned the thief and the purse were gone, although Betty still clutched the chain.

ANOTHER BATTLE TRIES STRENGTH OF MARSHAL FOCH



A heart attack has complicated the condition of Marshal Ferdinand Foch, 77, generalissimo of the allied armies, in the World War, who has been ailing for the past several months since he contracted a severe cold during an Armistice day celebration in Paris. Above are a number of photos of the French war hero taken at various times during his career. (1) With General John J. Pershing in France, (2) a characteristic pose, (3) dressed for a day at the races, (4) in civilian clothes at the close of the war, (5) a wartime pose, (6) with Col. Charles Lindbergh, just after the latter's transatlantic flight.

Tom's Pointing for Tunney Crown

'Eeney and 'is bride henceforth must be looked upon as New Yorkers, for they're back in the United States to stay following a honeymoon trip to Australia and New Zealand. The plucky horseshoer's first act upon returning was to take out his first citizenship papers; his second to start training for that heavyweight championship. Photo shows the Heeneys as they arrived in the city.

Slayer En Route to Death Cell

Displaying little emotion at thought he soon will pay the penalty for brutal slaying of 11-year-old Joey Storelli, Peter Kudzinowski, section hand killer, was taken to New Jersey state penitentiary at Trenton, there to await death in the electric chair. The photo shows him with guards on way to train.

Russians Need Five Billions For Utilities

Hoped That Foreign Capital Will Make City Improvements Possible

MANY CITIES ARE WITHOUT RAILWAYS

By EDWARD L. DEUSS.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MOSCOW, Jan. 18.—The need for public utility concessions in Russia is emphasized in a city survey which shows that at least five billion dollars must be spent to pull cities out of the mire and filth. The city beautiful idea is there, but the funds are lacking. For this reason the concessions policy has been broadened. It is hoped that one-fourth of the necessary improvements will be made by foreign capital.

Only 28 cities and town out of a total of 720 have sewage systems. There are 50 cities, according to the survey, of more than 50,000 population in which the sewage disposal methods are a menace to health.

Only 39 per cent of the cities have water systems. Even in Moscow 60 per cent of the homes have no running water. In Leningrad 40 per cent have no water connections.

Few Street Cars

Forty-one of the 720 cities have street cars. Before the war 32 cities had illuminating gas plants. Now there are only two in the entire country—one is Moscow and one in Kazan. Both supply only a fraction of the inhabitants.

Great strides have been made by the Soviets in the electrification of the country. Cities having electric light and power have doubled in number since the war.

In Czarist Russia foreign capital owned and operated about 30 per cent of the public utilities. Soviet authorities in denying that the broadening of the concessions plan means partial abandonment of Communism, point to the fact that they plan to give up to foreign control only 20 per cent of the new public utilities.

Living Conditions Bad.

"The health and living conditions of the proletariat demand that improvements be made immediately," said the labor newspaper "Trud."

Altogether the concessions plan offers to foreign capital the installation and operation of street car lines in 16 cities, electric, light and power stations in 12 cities, new water systems in 9 and complete reconstruction of existing systems in 12 cities, sewage systems in 21 cities and gas plants in 32 cities.

Revival To Conclude At Wesleyan Church

The series of evangelistic services which have been conducted very successfully in the Wesleyan Methodist church, Lyndal street for two weeks will conclude with the Sunday evening service. Rev. Jesse Whitecotton of Lapel, Ind., who has been assisting the pastor, Rev. W. H. Armstrong and the singer, Raymond Lewis have been asked unanimously by the congregation to return for a similar meeting next year.

At the meeting Thursday evening, Rev. Whitecotton delivered a most persuasive message on the theme "Eternity" in which he told of the wonders of eternity, the place where the righteous will live for ever, where there will be no trials or hardships. For the wicked it will be a place of remorse, pain and suffering.

The message made such an impression on the congregation that many sought the altar at the close of the service.

There will be services this evening and Saturday evening. Miss Mildred George and Miss Sadie Lewis will sing at the Friday evening meeting.

Power Company Official Injured

Jack Gerlach, assistant superintendent of the New Castle District of the Pennsylvania Power company, is now recovering from injury to the back, which he sustained last Monday while enroute from his home in Warren, O. He had just left his home but a short time and was driving toward this city on Ohio avenue, when a car that was making a left hand turn hit his machine, upsetting and badly damaging it. Mr. Gerlach was injured in the accident.

To Start Putting Auditorium Seats In New Junior High

George Washington Junior High Auditorium To Seat Over Thousand

Architect A. L. Thayer, who designed the new George Washington Junior High School appeared before the School Board on Thursday evening to discuss some minor matters that have developed in the finishing of the new school building.

The matter of the flooring of one room will be adjusted and the proper floor covering laid. An adjustment in the price will be secured Mr. Thayer said.

He promised that the odds and ends of the new building would be cleaned up by February 10th or 15th and that the seating men would start putting the seats in the auditorium early in February. The auditorium will seat 1065.

The matter of excessive smoke from the stacks was brought up by Attorney Roy W. Hazen, a member of the board and the architect said that he thought that this condition prevailed only in the early morning hours when the boilers were being fired to augment the stoker service. The stoker representative is expected to be here within a short time to instruct the engineers of the building.

Second Coming Of Christ Discussed

Evangelist Thomas Delivers Powerful Message At First Free Methodist Church

The important subject of the second coming of Jesus, was scripturally presented last night at the First Free Methodist church, by Evangelist Thomas. He said that this marvelous event dominated the entire scriptures; the Prophets, Psalms, Gospels, Epistles and Revelation. All other great events are overshadowed by the great event of the coming back of Jesus Christ.

He gave four reasons why he believes in the second coming of Jesus. First Christ said that he would come again. John 14.1-3. Secondly, it was testified to by the angels, Acts 1-11. Thirdly, nature is longing and mourning over the desolation of the world; Rom. 8:22-23. Fourthly, the true church of the Son of God is longing for His coming; Rev. 22:17.

He also emphasized the thought that He was not only coming, but that He was coming soon. All signs point to the speedy coming of Jesus. And also that He will come in an unexpected moment; 1 Thess. 5:1-3. Finally His coming will mean the cutting off of every man who is willingly rebelling against God. Services will continue each night, including Saturday night at 7:30. Sunday morning Evangelist Thomas will preach to the Sunday school at 10:30, this will take the place of the regular eleven o'clock preaching service.

Your BROADWAY and Mine

BY WALTER WINCHELL

(Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to The New Castle News)

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—True to his promise after his defeat for the Presidency that he would fade from the "scene", Alfred E. Smith and Mrs. Smith arrived at a New York theater the other premiere at 8:05 and took their seats. No one saw them arrive and the distinguished couple remained in their chairs between the acts instead of frequenting the foyer, where they might have been cheered by admirers.

Few other public men or celebrated persons would have done the same thing. The urge to be finger-pointed or ooh'd or ah'd at possesses too many of the "important". You know the types—the types Sidney Skolsky says should take a walk through a cemetery—where all tombstones look alike!

EXPOSE

Far be it from us to be a romance-buster, but too many of the lassies appearing in the musical shows have been getting away with a cute stunt. In Philadelphia, frinstance, when they are breaking in with a new lah-de-dah and expect long distance phone calls from their New York sweethearts, they do not remain in their rooms for the calls if they can go to another hotel where someone is chucking a party.

So they slip the operator at their own hotel a few dollars and tell her what room they are visiting at another hotel. The lad in New York phones and is none the wiser when his baby coos: "Honey boy, I'm so lonesome, but I'll read myself to sleep, sugarpie, don't worry." The big cluck in New York swells with pride, believing that he has her groggy over him, so he is relieved.

Of course we don't mean your girl!

INSIDE STUFF

Several months ago Irving Berlin prepared a ditty at the request of Al Jolson. It was to be the theme song for Jolson's "Singing Fool" and Berlin named his chune "Little Feller". Jolson liked it until De Sylva, Brown and Henderson demonstrated their "Sonny Boy".

Although a little hurt, Berlin has since conceded that Jolson knows a hit song when he hears one.

NOVELTY

An admirer of Greensboro, N. C., recently wrote a letter to Will Rogers, who stars in "Three Cheers", with Dorothy Stone. The sender addressed the letter in a most unusual manner. He clipped a half column cut photo of Rogers from a newspaper and then pasted it in the center of the envelope, under which he penned: "God Knows Where."

Rogers displays it proudly to his friends, and says he wouldn't part with it for a million dollars, but he probably would.

DON JUANITA

The new Maxwell Anderson drama, "Gypsy", which Richard Herndon brought to the Klaw, might have been christened "Like Mother, Like Daughter"; or, better still, "Bad Girl", for that's what Ellen was.

In the advance notes Mr. Anderson explained that his heroine was not a gypsy girl, "but a girl with a gypsy heart," and as she was revealed last night you only sympathized with her. You didn't like her.

Ellen's mother was restless, too. She had married three times, and then deserted her husband to run away again, this time with a traveling salesman. Then she committed suicide in Canada. Ellen feared that she had inherited her mother's frailties, and she had. When Ellen married David, just to even matters with a hotel detective in St. Louis, she discovered too soon that she had to be free, independent and do as she pleased. She was most unhappy.

It was interesting enough until the third act foundered. The adroit craftsmanship of the author didn't falter here, for he kept consistent, and it flattened. It didn't hold you. It became less engaging. It wasn't better than so-so. Therefore, the indications are not for a robust engagement, even with its small but very capable group of troupers and its amusing enough passages earlier in the proceedings.

REASON ENOUGH

An actor who appears in a local show features exaggerated sideburns. For years the "mob" has been puzzled. "He's handsome enough without them, isn't he?" someone said.

"Mebbe he is," was the retort, "but most fellers these days sport sideburns to hide the scars where their faces were lifted."

School Thrift Plan Brings Discussion At Board Meeting

Said By Board Member That Thrift Was Being Over Stressed In Some Rooms

The danger of overstressing thrift in the city schools came before the school board on Thursday evening the directors discussing methods which are used in the thrift program now in force. The matter came up when J. Herbert McIlvenny asked if elementary students were being sent to the bank with the school funds.

"They are not supposed to" said Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent. "The bank is supposed to send after the money."

"It may be that it was another fund" said President Young answering the charges of McIlvenny that a West Side student had been sent to the bank with $100.00 or more.

"Are we overstressing the matter of saving in the schools" questioned Mrs. Rose M. Nothdurft. 'Sometimes is apepars that pressure is being brough to bear on youngsters to bring money for the Thrift Fund when they cannot afford it."

"Contests are sometimes held" said Walter W. Duff in which the total of money saved is the basis of competition."

"We ought to weigh the benefits of the system" said President Young. "We need more thrift in this country and girls and boys should be taught to save."

"Yes, but I do not belive that pressure should be brought to bear" said Mrs. Nothdurft.

Dr. Green promised to look into the mater and see that no child was unduly pressed to bring money to the Thrift Fund solely to make a record for his room.

CITY SOLICITORS FAVOR NEW ANNEXATION BILL

City Solicitor White Returns From Conference At State Capital

Graded Tax Plan Also Discussed By Third-Class City Representatives

Solicitor Robert M. White today returned from a conference at Harrisburg, with 15 other solicitors of Third Class cities relative to proposed legislation to be considered by the state legislature.

White reported that the Annexation bill, Graded Tax plan and revision of certain pieces of Motor legislation are favored by the Third Class city solicitors.

It was decided to recommend an Annexation bill by which three fifths of the people in a section could petition a city for annexation.

City council could pass an ordinance annexing the territory and if the citizens of the city did not favor annexation a referendum could be taken.

The measure recommended differs from the Annexation bill presented during the Pinchot regime and which has laid in committee for several years.

The Graded Tax plan, as in use at Pittsburgh, is also favored and recommended as an optional measure. It would not be compulsory for cities to adopt the plan, under the recommendation.

White declared that the city solicitors believe that the Graded Tax plan would result in building on unoccupied land as it would be doubly assessed and the assessment on buildings lowered.

Third Class cities also recommended motor legislation that will specify what cities can do relative to parking of automobiles and buses.

Cities also want one-half of the license tax but they have been unable to bring this about, White said, but recalled the governor has recommended state aid to cities for routes entering and leaving cities.

It's fair enough. You get a rest during a holiday, and after that your stomach gets a rest.

Valentine Cards Must Comply With Regulations

Post office officials stated today that to date several tinseled valentine cards, which under the postal laws and regulations are unmailable, have already been received at the office here. These cards have been stopped and will later be destroyed.

Patrons of the postal service are requested to take note of the fact that unsealed tinseled cards in any shape or form are not mailable. It is only in such cases where they are tightly enclosed in envelopes that the cards will be delivered from the office.

Arrangements have been made to post a display of tinseled cards in the office of the post office in order to further educate the mailing public along this line. Tinseled cards are hindrances to the postal system in many ways, officials say.

War Vets Prepare For Large Crowd

Expect Several Hundred At Flag Presentation On Monday Night

Indications are that several hundred members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will be in attendance Monday evening at the affair to be held at the Legion Home by Harry L. McBride Post, No. 522, Veterans of Foreign Wars, in honor of the presentation of a handsome silk flag by Fred L. Rentz.

Other important figures in the affairs of the Veterans of Foreign Wars expected at the event are Past State Commander Jack Bingham of Pittsburgh and Jack Haley of Pittsburgh, liason officer of the Allegheny county council of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The flag will be presented to the post in behalf of Mr. Rentz by Ivor Davis. The evening will close with a social time and a good feed.

William Lewis is acting as chairman of the affair. It will be the first special meeting of importance to be held since the installation of Orville Potter as commander.

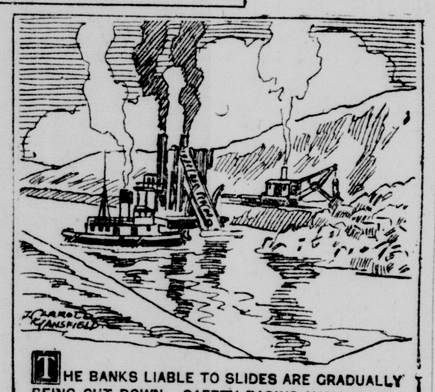
The Story Of The Panama Canal—Part 23
Controversy With England—Slides

IN 1912, BEFORE THE PANAMA CANAL WAS COMPLETED, CONGRESS PASSED AN ACT GRANTING AMERICAN COASTWISE VESSELS THE PRIVILEGE OF USING THE CANAL FREE OF CHARGE. ENGLAND PROTESTED, CLAIMING THAT THIS VIOLATED THE HAY-PAUNCEFOTE TREATY OF 1901, WHICH SAID THAT SHIPS OF ALL NATIONS SHOULD BE TREATED ALIKE.

PRESIDENT WILSON CAME TO BELIEVE THAT THE BRITISH CLAIM WAS JUST, AND ASKED CONGRESS TO REPEAL THE ACT. AFTER A LONG AND BITTER DEBATE THE LAW WAS REPEALED IN 1914, AND AMERICAN VESSELS USING THE CANAL WERE REQUIRED TO PAY TOLLS.

THE WORST TROUBLE WITH THE CANAL HAS COME FROM DESTRUCTIVE LANDSLIDES. CULEBRA CUT IS MENACED BY THIS DANGER, WHICH UP TO JULY, 1919, HAD CLOSED THE CANAL TO NAVIGATION FOR A TOTAL OF 242 DAYS AND COST $10,000,000 TO REPAIR THE DAMAGE.



THE BANKS LIABLE TO SLIDES ARE GRADUALLY BEING CUT DOWN. SAFETY BASINS HAVE BEEN DUG TO CATCH THE DEBRIS, AND IN THE COURSE OF TIME THE DANGERS OF SLIDES WILL HAVE BEEN ELIMINATED. THE SLIDES USUALLY OCCUR DURING THE DRY SEASON.

TOMORROW—SLIDES (CONCLUDED).

NEW CASTLE HIGH REFUSED RE-HEARING

Shaffer Ruling Will Remain As Given At First

Decisions Committee Turns Deaf Ear To New Castle Plea For Rehearing

BEAVER FALLS MAN IS RULED ELIGIBLE

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 18.—New Castle today stands suspended from the Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic League for one year, with its plea for a rehearing denied.

The W. P. I. A. L. decisions committee held a meeting in the Fort Pitt Hotel last night, when it reaffirmed the ineligibility of Glenn Shaffer, New Castle High school substitute gridder, and whitewashed a similar technical violator of W. P. I. A. L. rules, Howe of Beaver Falls High, the school which charged and has succeeded in ousting the New Castle entrant from the league. The decision automatically expelled New Castle for one year. A plea for rehearing was denied.

The committee therefore awarded the grid championship in its meeting room, rather than upon basis of competition.

While New Castle has been ruled out on a technical violation, the committee has refused to even consider the similar violation on the part of Beaver Falls. Howe, its center, is said to be a resident of Darlington through family circumstances—and he plays for Beaver Falls.

Slippery Rock Girl Tossers Open Friday

Meet Waynesburg At Home; To Invade East For Seven Days Soon

SLIPPERY ROCK, Jan. 18.—Saturday evening, January 19, the first game of a very splendid schedule including three games at home and seven away, the girls basketball squad of the Slippery Rock State Teachers College will be played when Waynesburg meets the local girls at Slippery Rock. During the season of intensive training the squad has proven that they are already more capable than ever before. The schedule this season demands a finished team, especially when the seven day trip includes such celebrated teams as Swarthmore, Temple, East Stroudsburg, Juniata, and Albright.

After four weeks of hard practice Coach Compton is ready to announce the personnel of Slippery Rock's representatives. This years squad of 18 is composed of 10 girls who made up last year's team with eight new additions. In addition to Russell, captain; Kunkle, manager; Vehlum, Anderson, McCastlin, Winestone, Ebert, S. Louden, M. Louden and Snodgrass from last year, Newton, Miller, Hirtzel, Pletz, Lewellyn, Huggang, Hill, and Upton have been given a place this year on the squad.

The girls who were fortunate to make the squad are glorying in the fact that their schedule is by far the most interesting and puzzling they've ever had, both from the point of view of mileage and the type of opposition. They have worked hard every year, made champs of themselves and yet have kept modestly in the background. The administration has decided that they need new worlds to conquer, and as a result are to receive a chance at something bigger and better, a reward for silence.

The list of games includes:
Jan. 19—Waynesburg.
Jan. 25—Waynesburg.
Feb. 2—Fredonia, at home.
Feb. 15—Juniata, away.
Feb. 16—Albright, away.
Feb. 18—East Stroudsburg, away.
Feb. 19—Swarthmore, away.
Feb. 20—Beaver or Temple, away.
Mar. 1—Fredonia, away.
Mar. 16—Albright, at home.

New Castle High At Youngstown To Meet South

New Castle High Basketball Team To Play Undefeated South Team Tonight

LOCALS CRIPPLED FOR IMPORTANT GAME

By "BUGS" WALTHER

Undefeated in scholastic competition to date, and boasting of one of the strongest basketball teams in the past several years, the strong South High quintet of Youngstown, O., will endeavor to keep their slate clean tonight, when they battle New Castle High.

The game will be played at the Rayen-Wood auditorium and will start at 8:15 o'clock. The South High Reserves will meet the Himrod "Little Giants" in the preliminary game.

Sillman at Forword

The New Castle team is somewhat crippled tonight for their meeting with the powerful South High aggregation. Paul Cuba, the star forward of the red and black, is in the hospital with a nervous breakdown and will not likely be available for basketball the remainder of the season. Coach Bridenbaugh intends to start Arthur Sillman at the vacant forward post tonight. Sillman has been used for three years as a stationary guard, but has shown clever offensive ability and warrants a fling at forward.

Merle "Red" McIntosh will be started at the vacant guard post, with Captain Tony Ostrosky as his runningmate. Alexander will be the pivot man and Johnny Johnson will be the runningmate for Sillman.

New Castle Seeks Victory

New Castle is anxious to defeat the Youngstown team tonight for two very good reasons: the South High team won here last year by one point, and it will give the locals considerable prominence to upset the Sollers coached cohorts.

The red and black tossers went through a stiff workout yesterday afternoon at Senior High and they looked very impressive. New Castle has won four and lost four this year. Tonight the locals have a chance to go above the 500 per cent mark.

South High will present almost the same line-up tonight that defeated New Castle last year, 18 to 17, with the exception of Koken, Strouss and Cartwright. Coach Sollers has Nasman, Franklin, Everth, Crawford, Avery, Gibbons and McFarland on the roster this year. New Castle will be minus Reider, Thomas and Kulich of the New Castle 1928 team that went down to defeat at the hands of South High.

FLOOR JOTTINGS

Wednesday evening at the Mahoningtown gym the fast stepping Lawrence Five nosed out the Royal Five by one point. When the final whistle blew the seventh graders were in the lead by the score of 17 to 16. The game was very interesting and hard fought throughout.

George Perotta To Box Floyd Hybert

Disappearance From Old Haunts Day And Night For Six Weeks Brings Discovery He Has Been In Intensive Training; Tells How False Friends Turned Him Down After Firpo Beat Him; Wishes To Beat Hybert, Then Return With Firpo And Redeem Himself And Start Climbing Upward

The cloak of secrecy that has surrounded the movements of George Perotta for the past six weeks and his mysterious absence every afternoon and night from his old-time haunts was ripped aside today when it became known that Perotta has been training with Emmett Rocco for a month and a half to fit himself for another bout in which he hopes to knock out Floyd Hybert, challenge and fight Henry Firpo and redeem himself in the eyes of the pugilistic world and obtain a new footing on the ladder of pugilism.

Instead of making the resolution six weeks ago to break it, Perotta made the resolution and has kept it. And today the middleweight who furnishes more thrills in one round than other fighters have in ten, is as far different from the Perotta of six weeks ago as is day from night.

His eyes are clear, his skin flushes with the pink of health and his muscles are as pliable as cord. The old-time logginess of leg has disappeared and as he prances around with Rocco, who fights Knute Hansen at Madison Square garden, there is a "springiness" in his tread that he hasn't had for a couple of years.

And what brought it? Nothing but remorse over almost wasted opportunity to bring him fame for if ever a boy inclined pugilistically had a chance it is Perotta, but he didn't discover that he had been played false by the goddess of Luck and that those he thought friends gave him the "icy stare" after Firpo knocked him out.

"Before I fought Firpo I thought I had a lot of friends, fellows who would go up or go down with me. One or two of them stuck to me, gave me words of sympathy and really offered me help after Firpo stretched me out. The rest passed me up. Some of them went so far as to knock me in every home, cigar store and in fact all around," he said.

"Some of the boys with whom I 'chased around' passed me up. I wasn't broke, flat or anything like that, but they didn't want a loser with them. In time I discovered that the old friends were the true friends, after all. One night I sat down at home and trieed to solve my dilemma.

"I couldn't see anything but black in front of me. I had been licked, toppled over, nine times, yet I couldn't be knocked cold. Suddenly I realized that I was still in the prime of life, healthy and the only thing that could keep me down would be lack of will power to do for myself what others had done before me.

"I made a resolve that I would start training, hit the road every morning, pick out the huskiest training partners I could find, box every afternoon, go through other preparatory work and abandon my old haunts; in fact, pass up the pseudo 'glad hand', get into bed at night and test myself, then ask for another chance.

"For six weeks I've been in the rigors of hard training with Emmett Rocco and if anyone wants to see the change for themselves, all they need to do is to step down to the gym and they'll see us 'going to it' every afternoon. Rocco is powerful, a hard puncher, and believe me we both let our punches go.

"When I fought Firpo the second time I had some training partners that I did not dare let loose on and I had to pull punches. I did not need to perfect my guard and when Firpo and I fought I rocked him hard in the first round with left hooks. I thought I had the cobwebs in his head.

"In the second round he shot a jab and the punch reeled me off balance and before I could collect my balance his long right flew as straight—unfortunately straight for me—as the flight of a carrier pigeon. I never knew what happened after that. I fought, yes, but through instinct.

"My so-called friends gave me the stare, that old icy hand. Some panned me too, I guess, because I determined to make some of them change their ideas and that is why the old-time clearness of eye has returned and I am able to keep stepping along with my friend Rocco. If I didn't have condition, he would stretch me every day. I'm not going to toss this chance away," said Perotta.

Six-Footers In Clash Tonight

Geneva-Westminster Game To Be Battle Of Giants On College Teams

CLOSE SCORE IS NOW INDICATED

(Special To The News)

BEAVER FALLS, Jan. 18.—Good stiff practice comprises the daily program of Ken Loeffler's Geneva charges while the gold and white cheerleaders are putting the Geneva student body in the right frame of mind for the coming tilt with Westminster this evening. The Covenanter coach is working out an effective offense to use against Westminster's peculiar zone defense and tonight will tell whether or not his efforts have been in vain.

The gold and white five is finally learning Loeffler's system of play, and although the team has rolled up no large scores it has played sensible basketball, scoring just enough points to win out in most cases by a margin of six or seven points. The Covenanters boast of one of the strongest defense teams in tri-state circles. Thiel was held to four points during the first half of that contest, and Waynesburg was only able to register 13 points through the entire encounter. No team yet has been able to work the ball consistently through the gold and white defense.

Allegheny college has just proved that Westminster is not unstoppable, but of course the Methodists are sporting one of their best teams in years. Tonight's game will be interesting from more aspects than one as both teams have three or four six-footers and some clever floor artists at that. Delehunty and Tudor Lewis are all-conference selections from last season as is Emrick of Geneva. The competition at the center post will be keen and hot, with Ransom of Geneva and "Red" Crowell of Westminster vieing for honors. The other men who will see service are all veterans in the tri-state conference and plenty of action (are Friedman, Merriman, Ayers and O'Donovan), will be guaranteed to everyone fortunate enough to witness this evening's fray.

In the preliminary attraction the Beaver Falls high school girls will meet the girls team from Farrell, Pa.

ALLEGHENY WINS OVER GROVE CITY

Foul Shooting And Spurt Of Dennison Downs Crimson Quintet

GROVE CITY, Jan. 18.—Allegheny Methodists defeated Grove City college basketball team 30 to 27 last night. The foul shooting average of Allegheny plus Dennison's spurt in the second half contributed to the victory.

The Crimson rushed from behind in the first half and led 15-14 at the whistle. The Crimson flashed for five minutes when they played excellent basketball. However, Allegheny forged ahead and took the floor setto.

The lineup:

Grove City 27		Allegheny 30
Angelo	F	Mills
Waleski	F	Dennison
Burke	C	Conn
Elliott	G	Garback
Ryan	G	Berger

Butler High To Play New Castle Here On Tuesday

New Castle High To Oppose Undefeated Butler High Team Here Next Tuesday

New Castle high school basketball team will have plenty of opposition here next Tuesday night at senior high gym when the undefeated Butler high quintet is billed as the attraction.

The Butler high passers, leaders of section III of the W. P. I. A. L. along with New Brighton high, will present a formidable team here, and they plan to get revenge on New Castle for that upset at the Pitt stadium last year in the playoff for the section III title.

HANSEN TOSSED OUT OF BATTLE

Not To Fight Rocco At Garden; Seeking Another Foe For Emmett

Joe Cumo, manager of Emmett Rocco, today announced that he had received word that the Rocco-Knute Hansen semi-final to the Christner-Sharkey bout January 25, has been punched for a knockout.

"The garden matchmaker, Tom McArdle, called me and said that the commission ruled Hansen was not a good enough opponent for Rocco," said Cumo. McArdle said Rocco would box some other heavyweight.

Emmett is training at the Cumo gymnasium, south Mill street, which is open to the public each afternoon and night. It is there that George Perotta is training with Rocco.

SORDS POINTS

Sharkey Fights Knute Hansen's Conqueror

By JACK SORDS
Sports Cartoonist-Writer for Central Press and The New Castle News

Jack Sharkey, the talkative one from Boston, finally signed to fight Young Stribling at Miami on Feb. 27. It will be the biggest heavyweight battle since the Tunney-Heeney championship fight last July and promises to be an even better one.

As a tuneup for this step towards the heavyweight title Sharkey has next in his book of engagements a meeting with one K. O. Christner, of Akron, the boy who halted Knute Hansen's walk into the titled class last December. This fight is scheduled for Friday, Jan. 25, at Madison Square Garden. Jack will probably climb into the ring with Christner a 10 to 1 favorite, and he should be. But for the sake of his Miami engagement the Boston gob might well remember the fate of Hansen. The Dane was at least a 10 to 1 shot over Christner before their mixup. But Hansen became careless and the awkward Christner, who packs a terrific right, was treated to a free shot at the chin. The favorite came to 15 minutes later.

It might be just a tuneup for Sharkey, but for Christner it is an opportunity to break into the limelight.

Pirates, Cubs, Dodgers Look Like Best Bets In National League Race

St. Louis Cardinals Have Wrecked Team; Many Valuable Veterans Missing

Braves, Reds And Phillies Will Not Cause Much Trouble; Giants Not So Strong

(Editor's Note: This the first of a series of two articles by David J. Walsh, dealing with the profit and loss shown by the ball clubs of each major league, either by trades or natural depreciation, since the close of the 1928 season. The second and last article will follow immediately.)

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Granting the possibility that the boys may yet connive to some purpose over a trade or two, it can be conceded more or less today that the National League clubs are set, or in some cases considerably upset, for the 1929 season and that what they happen to muster now is approximately what they will have to show when the gun pops. It, therefore, may be estimated, without anything more to fear than violent contradiction the two most improved ball clubs of the National League today are the Chicago Cubs and the New York Giants and that, of this pair, the Cubs figure to show the greater improvement.

Pirates Strong Team.

Everything else being equal, which seldom is the case, they should make the ultimate fight for the pennant, with the Pittsburgh Pirates showing plenty of authority but not too much and the St. Louis Cardinals fading like the old daguerreotype of Aunt Bertha. The Pirates may be figured to summon some slight improvement, the Cardinals none at all. In fact, I would venture to say that the champions may be off as far as twenty per cent from their 1928 pace.

There are, as a matter of fact, only two other entries in the league which might be entitled to look forward to having better ball clubs and, unfortunately, a thousand times nothing is still nothing. I am referring to the Dodgers and Phillies. One can't go back any further than the end of the utimate limit, so we will assume that this pair has come forward a bit. That the Boston Braves have done likewise is not an unlikely supposition; it is an absurd supposition.

Cubs Have Cinch.

The Cubs may be as much as a twenty per cent better club for the presence of Hornsby and the drive his punch will give them. The boy friend no longer is a great second baseman but the man doesn't live who can outhit him from the right side of the plate. He has been the clamoring need of the Chicago infield these several years and the club got him without sacrificing anything it couldn't spare. To say that the outfit which beats the Cubs will win the pennant, is to commit a bromide. However, they still aren't any stronger than a new year's resolution at third base.

The Giants' improvement hasn't been more than ten per cent and I wouldn't stake them to that if it wasn't for the fact that certain men who were available only for parts of last season will be ready from the outset. Reese is a better second baseman than Cohen and will proceed to prove it at the earliest possible moment. The Giants were a chump ball club against left handers last year because of the shift they had to use for the occasion. That's out now like a man going to lunch, provided Reese is the permanent second baseman and Fred Leach, from the Phillies, can get by consistently in left field. Besides, this left hander, Hubbell, will be in there for a full season and that ought to make some difference, perhaps plenty. Hogan should be a better man for his extra season of experience.

Infield Weakened.

The Pirates and Dodgers probably both did well in the Petty-Wright trade. It staked Pittsburgh to the left hand pitcher it long has sought and it took away a player who probably was through at Forbes Field, anyway. The addition of Petty, with the Pirate punch behind him, may mean a whole lot in games won and lost but, on the other and remaining hand, the infield no longer is fool proof. The Pirates may not have gone back but certainly they haven't come forward very far either. The club, however, probably got very smart when it attached itself to Earl Wheely as its first baseman.

As for the Cardinals, they have torn up half their infield and thrown it away. This Gelbert may be all they say he is but the chances are he isn't quite that good and, anyhow, at least one infield position must suffer no matter how you figure it. The pitching has helped considerably in carrying this outfit a long way and it is about due to call the thing a career. Psychologically, their showing in the world series will encourage the Cards almost not at all. I think they are shot.

So are the Reds, due to natural depreciation. The club has been allowed to die on the trellis, particularly the pitchers who once kept the outfit moving somewhere. The Dodgers lost Petty but he never won too many games for them, anyhow, because they persisted in giving him a no-run advantage as a margin on which to work. Wright is certain to improve the infield and the punch.

The Braves may be better for Maguire, Jones, Harper and Maranville. But no one thinks so, not even the Braves. Hornsby's hitting must have meant something to them and it still will mean plenty—any time they play the Cubs.

Whitney, Hurst, Lerian and other first year men should come on to improve the Phils at least a trifle. If Ulrich comes back, they will almost have a pitching staff and I don't doubt that Thevenow will be a better shortstop than was Heine Sand.

But, as already conceded, when you start from nowhere, you can travel over land and sea a thousand miles or more—and still be nowhere.

Paulino-Heeney May Be Matched

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Tom McArdle, Madison Square Garden matchmaker, today is trying to arrange a bout between Paulino Uzcudun, Basque heavyweight, and Tom Heeney. Paulino, left out in the cold when the Sharkey-Stribling go was arranged, wants to tackle the Australian again after returning from his proposed trip to Porto Rico.

Heeney is not expected to balk at the match, because he claims he should have been awarded the decision over Paulino in both of their previous meetings. They fought one draw and the Basque was given the decision in the other bout.

School Profs Line Up For Court Classic

All is apparently set for the hoop game classic which will take place on the Bessemer high school gymnasium floor between the male members of the Shenango and Bessemer school faculties tonight.

From all indications, the game, which is to be played this evening at 7 o'clock, will be the classic in the entire county, bar none.

Harold Colton, supervising principal of the Bessemer high school, will be at a forward position for his alma mater and alma daughter as well, while Clare Book, supervising principal of Shenango, says that he believes he will act as manager for his team and keep their money during the game. However, it is expected that Principal Book will break into the game before the final gong.

The lineup of school men who will stage the classic follows:

Bessemer		Shenango
Colton	F	McCullough
Lukarillo	F	Humphrey
Winters	C	Phelps
Frederick	G	Smith
Martin	G	Brown

Start Championship Checker Tournament

Who is the city's champion checker player?

Well, it will be decided shortly for a championship tournament will start next week at the New Castle Y. M. C. A. to determine the man or woman who is the grand mogul of checkers.

All of the checker hounds who would like to enter the contest will meet at the Y lobby Saturday evening at 8 o'clock to get the schedule of players arranged and the entire arrangements of the tournament in spick and span shape.

The tournament is expected to get out a lot of the old fellows who played the game years ago in some little country store and those are the chaps who really can play, know the moves an hour ahead, and take on the average of about four or five hours to a game.

If you're a checker fan come to the Y lobby Saturday evening and get your name listed in the lineup.

Five Local Boys Billed For Bouts

Perotta, Picato, Pacelli, Minteer And Elmo To Battle Here

MATCH OPPONENTS IN WEIGHT, ABILITY

Realizing that they are to appear before the biggest gathering of fistic folk who have ever assembled in Jolly bowl, all of the local bulbs of pugilism who have been favored with a set of articles by Promoter Bill Jolly are in the throes of training for the fights January 28. It will be the first time in the history that every "go" on the calendar will contain a New Castle boy against an out-of-town opponent of even ability.

While George Perotta, colorful puncher, who is doing a "Jack Dempsey" in the hope of regaining the hold that he once held in the affection of local fans, will fight Floyd Hybert in the main bout, the next bout of importance will be between Babe Picato of the West Side and Sammy Harris of Akron. Harris recently won from Chet Smallwood. Babe is boxing daily, looks like a flash of lightning and is rarin' to go.

Romeo Ready Again.

Romeo Pacelli, the South Side ghost who moves almost with the grace of a phantom, will return to the ring to battle either Billy Wallace of Youngstown or Mickie Dugan of Cleveland. He had signed a contract weeks ago to box Dugan. Last night Romeo said he would box January 28 and the boxing commission has agreed to reinstate Romeo should he honor the contract, which he has promised to do. He boxes daily with Babe Picato and has more than a week to train.

Little Roy Minteer, the tough, redheaded French-American, will take on Joe Stemple of Akron, who has fought Jackie Powers and the better class of bantamweights. Roy will box at 116 pounds and this time he will not be outweighed. He will have an opponent who can fight and and it will be the opportunity for Roy to climb farther up the ladder.

Elmo Getting Ready.

A contract will be tendered to the inimitable Elmo the Mighty, connoisseur of clownish actions, possessor of an iron jowl and a grin that cannot be rubbed off by the caress of a boxing club. However, when Elmo swings his ponderous fist to the accompaniment of his famous grin it will be directed toward Nick Pelis, the Aliquippa Surprise package. Nick signed for the bout yesterday.

The beauty of the part is that the fighters are evenly mated in ability and punch and the show will have lots of color, inasmuch as Perotta, Picato, Pacelli, Minteer and Elmo are known to everybody here and can fight. Should anything happen to any of the boxers Mickie Solomon will be put into the ring as Promoter Jolly is seeking a foe for Solomon, who is fitting himself for a return trip to local fame. Mickie is certain to box in the succeeding show at the bowl.

Thiel Prepares For Duquesne

Lutherns To Battle Pittsburgh Five At Greenville On Saturday Night

(Special To The News)

GREENVILLE, Pa., Jan. 18.—The Thiel college basketball team, spurred on by their heart-breaking five-point defeat by the giant Geneva team last Thursday, are hard at work in preparation for the Duquesne game at Greenville on Saturday night. Bob Bost, captain of the team and high point scorer of the club season, is still unable to play. Captain Bost is afflicted with a heart condition that makes it dangerous for him to compete in strenuous sport. It was thought for a time that he might round into shape and be able to play, but the doctors in a recent examination withheld any hope of his being able to participate eaney this year. With this one excepuon the squad is in excellent condition. They lack a prime requisite, as a whole, for a good college basketball team and that is size. The tallest man on the squad barely reaches six feet one inch. However, what they lack in size they make up in speed and fight. Led by the diminutive "Rabbit" Wardle, former Webster Hall flash, and "Hooper" Berkman of football fame at the forwards, with Bill Frampton at center and Bill Myers and the freshman "find", Cliff McCoy, at the guards the college is expecting great things in the coming season.

"Gloomy Gil" Loebs, coach, is not very optimistic as to his team's chances. He feels that they are a good small team but only by the most bitter fighting can they take the measure of their larger opponents. He realizes that Duquesne has a fine team and they will be hard to beat.

Probable lineup:

Thiel		Duquesne
Wardle	L. F.	Lubic
Berkman	R. F.	Stevenson
Frampton	C.	Vernon
McCoy	L. G.	Benedict
Meyers	R. G.	Rosenberg

Lomski-Braddock Battle Tonight

Challengers To Light-Heavyweight Crown Worn By Loughran Battle In New York

BRADDOCK SPORTS KNOCKOUT PUNCH

By SID MERCER.
International News Service Special Correspondent

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—They are betting 5 to 1 that the youthful James J. Braddock does not put the sleep plug on Leo Lomski this evening at the Garden and 2 to 1 that the Aberdeen assassin carves a decision out of the Jersey Spalpeen.

These odds represent the "wise money" opinion of a scrap between two of the pretenders to the light heavyweight throne.

As James J. Braddock is fighting now no man in his division is a 2 to 1 shot over him except possibly Tommy Loughran the champion.

Tommy still figures to outbox any of his rivals and when he is hurt he can present as few openings as a frightened porcupine.

Lomski Good Fighter.

Lomski is no Loughran as a boxer. He is cast in a sturdy mold and ably substiutes a rushing, two-fisted attack for the customary manouvering of the Orthdox boxer. Leo has been impaled on some of the best left hooks and right crosses in the barbed wire entanglements of his division but has never been spilled for the long count.

Still there is a first time for everything. It came to Pete Latzo and Tuffy Griffiths at the hands of Braddock.

Before Braddock edged toward the centre of the picture by standing Griffiths on his ear he was rated as just an ordinary performer, despite the fact that he had cracked Pete Latzo's jaw with one of his mighty rights.

Braddock Can Hit.

Griffiths, a showy gymnasium performer with a record of more than 40 fights without a defeat, was a 2 to 1 favorite over the Jerseyman.

Lomski naturally is a charger. He hits hard with both hands but doesn't feint to land one lethal blow his style, rather is to wear an opponent down by constant mauling.

If Leo comes tearing at Braddock tonight he will be in danger. Braddock is a counter hitter who needs only one good shot at a protruding chin. He may not get it with Lomski tinight for the Aberdeen blond is no fool. He has been working out a new plan of defense in his gymnasium boxing—a style calculated to get him to close quarters without taking many chances. Once inside he hopes to better the body and thus sap the strength from Braddock's punches.

There may be a knockout either way in this fight. The citizenry senses this and for the last two days the ticket sale has attained proportions that should approach a sell-out tonight.

Canzoneri Favored To Beat Santiago

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—Tony Canzoneri, New York Italian, rates a 7 to 5 favorite to "take" Armando Santiago of Cuba when they face each other in the ten-round feature bout of Jim Mullen's Coliseum show tonight.

They will meet at 130 pounds, the junior lightweight limit. The winner has been promised a championship match with that division's titleholder, Tod Morgan.

Canzoneri, former featherweight champion, has fought in Chicago twice before, both times against Bud Taylor. Tony got a draw in one bout and lost the decision in the other.

Santiago broke into the ranks of first water fighters here last month when he knocked out Joey Sangor of Milwaukee, one of the leading contenders in the junior lightweight division. Sangor later won a newspaper decision over Tod Morgan, but was suspended by the Wisconsin boxing commission for hitting the champion low.

Quite a number have already responded to the request of the fines, some having to pay as much as five dollars in back fines of this character.

Those who fail to pay attention to the matter of paying the fines this time, will be sent for and brought in, if necessary, it was stated at the police station today.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The forward movement in industrial stocks gathered momentum this morning as buying demand for the steel, copper, oil and high-priced specialty stocks swarmed into the market from every quarter.

A block of 25,000 shares of Standard Oil of New York passed through the market at $45 a share, after which the stock moved up to the record price of 45½.

St. Joseph Lead pushed up an additional 7 points to 87¾, at the head of the metals stock group. Possible merger under powerful financial auspices is responsible for the 25-point jump in this stock this week. The copper stocks were not so active, though Chile Copper, Andes and Greene Cananea rose to the highest prices of the week.

Electrical Autolite and Johns Manville led the advance in the high-priced specialties, booming along at a rapid pace in a heavy turnover. At 212 Johns Manville was up 12 points for the day and 117 points since its graduation from the curb market about two months ago.

Radio and the stocks allied with that old sky-rocketer were comparatively quiet, with prices slightly higher.

Seventh Ward Man Accidentally Shot

John Fabian In Hospital As Result Of Self-Inflicted Wound, Police Say

John Fabian, aged 21, 1036 North Liberty street, is in the New Castle hospital, suffering from an accidentally self-inflicted wound in the lower left thigh, sustained about 1:30 o'clock this morning at his home. His condition is not serious.

According to the police record, J. R. Hodge notified the police department about 1:30 o'clock this morning that he had answered a call to 1036 North Liberty street, where he found a young man had shot himself. He had removed the wounded young man to the New Castle hospital.

Officers Thompson, McKee and Richards investigated and found that the young man had returned home from his work at the Shenango tin plant about midnight.

He cleaned up, had some supper and then went to the drawer in which a twenty-two calibre revolver was kept, playfully pointed it at his abdomen and pulled the trigger.

The bullet took a lower course and lodged in the lower left thigh. The revolver was brought to the police station by the officers.

His speedy recovery from the wound is expected.

Legion Members Visit Ohio Post

Youngstown To Send Delegation Here To Greet National Commander

Members of the American Legion visitation committee were guests at the meeting of the Youngstown post held on Thursday night. They were most heartily welcomed into the bounds of the post immediately on their arirval. The Youngstown organization had an attendance of 75 and of this number 25 definitely promised to attend the national commander's banquet on February 12. However, the entire post's membership may desire to attend.

The committee is visiting posts in the 26th district in behalf of the coming visit of Paul V. McNutt, national head of the legion.

Included in the party that motored to the Ohio city last night were Ted Marlin and the several members of his orchestra, Branstedder, Wallace and (Buster) Brown. They furnished musical entertainment during the evening while the songs that Emrys Davis, soloist, gave also featured the program. Following the business and entertainment, motion pictures of the 1927 Paris convention were shown by Dr. H. H. Rosenthal. The hosts greatly enjoyed the picture.
